Foreign Intervention to be Regarded as Cause of War.

Significant Warning to the Austrian Government.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, April 23.

The Government has received satisfactory assurances from the Emperor of France that all the French troops will be withdrawn from Mexico, and that France will pursue a policy of absolute non-intervention in Mexican affairs. The same policy will be required by our Government from every European Power. Official advices have been received from Paris and Vienna that the Emperor of Austria has entered into engagements to supply MAXIMILIAN with troops to replace those of France, and that a large number of Austrian soldiers are about to embark for Vera Cruz. Mr. SEWARD has instructed Mr. MOTLEY to demand his passports instantly upon the sailing of any vessel with troops on such an expedition, and to notify the Government of Austria that the Austrian Minister at Washington will have his passports sent him upon the receipt of such intelligence. The intervention of any European Power in the internal concerns of Mexico will hereafter be regarded by our Government as cause of war. France became involved in Mexico while seeking redress for wrongs and injuries she had sustained. She has now accepted the policy of non-intervention, of which, so far as Mexico is concerned, the United States will hereafter make themselves the guardian.

THE OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

The President to-day sent a message to the House of Representatives, in response to the resolution asking for information in relation to the proposed evacuation of Mexico by the French military forces, inclosing a number of documents, among which are the following:

MR. SEWARD TO THE MARQUIS DE MONTHOLON.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, Feb. 12, 1866.

SIR: On the 6th of December I had the honor to submit to you in writing, for the information of the Emperor, a communication upon the subject of affairs in Mexico, as affected by the presence of French armed forces in that country. On the 29th of January thereafter you favored me with a reply to that communication, which reply had been transmitted to you by M. DROUYN DE LHUYS, under the date of the 9th of the same month. I have submitted it to the President of the United States. It is now made my duty to revert to the interesting question which has thus been brought under discussion. In the first place I take notice of the points which are made by M. DROUYN DE LHUYS. He declares that the French expedition into Mexico had in it nothing hostile to the institutions of the new world, and still less of anything hostile to the United States. As proofs of this friendly statement he refers to the aid in blood and treasure which France contributed in our Revolutionary war to the cause of our national independence; to the Parliamentary propositions that France made to us that we should join her in her expedition to Mexico, and finally to the neutrality which France has practiced in the painful civil war through which we have just successfully passed. It gives me pleasure to acknowledge that the assurance thus given on the present occasion, that the French expedition in its original design had no political objects or motives, harmonize entirely with expressions which abound in the earlier correspondence of the Minister for Foreign Affairs, which arose out of the war between France and Mexico. We accept with especial pleasure, the reminiscences of our traditional friendship. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS next assures us that the French Government is disposed to hasten, as much as possible, the recall of its troops from Mexico. We hail the announcement as being a virtual promise of relief to this Government from the apprehensions and anxieties which were the burden of that communication of mine, which M. DROUYN DE LHUYS has under consideration. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS proceeds to declare that the only aim of France in pursuing her enterprise in Mexico, has been to follow up the satisfaction to which she had a right, after having resorted to coercive measures, when measures of every other form had been exhausted. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS says that it is known how many and legitimate were the claims of French subjects, which caused the resort to arms. He then reminds us how, on a former occasion, the United States had waged war on Mexico. On this point it seems equally necessary and proper to say that the war thus referred to was not made nor sought by the United States; but was accepted by them under provocation of a very grave character. The transaction is passed, and the necessity and justice of the proceedings of the United States are questions which now rest only within the province of history. France, I think, will acknowledge, that neither in the beginning of our Mexican war, nor in its prosecution, nor in the terms on which we retired from that successful contest, did the United States assume any position inconsistent with the principles which are now maintained by us in regard to the French expedition in Mexico. We are, as we have been, in relations of amity and friendship equally with France and with Mexico; and therefore we cannot, consistently with those relations, constitute ourselves a judge of the original merits of the war which is waged between them. We can speak concerning that war only so far as we are affected by its bearing upon ourselves and upon Republican and American institutions on this continent. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS declares that the French army in entering Mexico did not carry monarchical traditions in the folds of its flag. In this connection he refers to the fact that there were at the time of the expedition a number of influential men in Mexico who despaired of obtaining order out of the conditions of the Republican rule then existing there, and who therefore cherished the idea of falling back upon monarchy. In this connection we are further reminded that one of the later Presidents of Mexico offered, to use his power for the reëstablishment of royalty. We are further informed that at the time of the French invasion the persons before referred to deemed the moment to have arrived for making an appeal to the people of Mexico in favor of monarchy. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS remarks that the French Government did not deem it a duty to discourage that supreme effort of a powerful party, which had its origin long anterior to the French expedition. He observes that the Emperor, faithful to the maxims of public right, which he holds in common with the United States, declared on that occasion that the question of a change of institutions rested solely on the suffrage of the Mexican people. In support of this statement of M. DROUYN DE LHUYS gives a copy of a letter which the Emperor addressed to the Commander-in-Chief of the French expedition on the capture of Puebla, which letter contains the following words: "Our object, you know, is not to impose on the Mexicans against their will, nor to make our success aid in the triumph of any party whatever. I desire that Mexico may rise to a new life, and that soon regenerated by a Government founded on the National will, or principles of order, and of progress, and of respect for the laws of nations, she may acknowledge, by her friendly relations, that she owes to France her repose and her prosperity.

M. DROUYN DE LHUYS pursues his argument by saying that the Mexican people have spoken; that the Emperor MAXIMILIAN has been called by the people of the country; that his Government has appeared to the Emperor of the French to be of a nature adequate to restore peace to the nation, and on its part peace to international relations; and that he has therefore given it his support. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS therefore presents the following as a true statement of the present case: France went to Mexico to exercise the right of war, which is exercised by the United States, and not in virtue of any purpose of intervention concerning which she recognizes the same doctrine with the United States. France went there, not to bring about a monarchical proselytism, but to obtain reparations and guarantees which she ought to claim; and being there, she now sustains the Government which is founded on the consent of the people, because she expects from that Government the just satisfaction of her wrongs, as well as the securities indispensable to the future. As she does not seek the satisfaction of an exclusive interest, nor the realization of any ambitious schemes, so she now wishes to recall what remains in Mexico of the army corps which France has sent there at the moment when she will be able to do so with safety to French citizens and with due respect for herself. I am aware how delicate the discussion is to which M. DROUYN DE LHUYS thus invites me. France is entitled by every consideration of respect and friendship to interpret for herself the objects of the expedition and of the whole of her proceedings in Mexico. Her explanation of those motives and objects is therefore accepted on our part with the consideration and confidence which we expect for explanations of our own when assigned to France or any other friendly Power. Nevertheless, it is my duty to insist that, whatever were the intentions, purposes and objects of France, the proceedings which were adopted by a class of Mexicans for subverting the Republican Government there, and for availing themselves of French intervention to establish on its ruins an imperial monarchy, are regarded by the United States as having been taken without the authority and prosecuted against the will and opinions of the Mexican people. For these reasons it seems to this Government that, in supporting institutions thus established, in derogation of the inalienable rights of the people of Mexico, the original purposes and objects of the French expedition, though they have not been, as a military demand of satisfaction, abandoned, nor lost out of view by the Emperor of the French, were, nevertheless, let to fall into a condition in which they seem to have become subordinate to a political revolution, which certainly would not have occurred if France had not forcibly intervened, and which, judging from the genius and character of the Mexican people, would not now be maintained by them, if that armed intervention should cease.

The United States have not seen any satisfactory evidence that the people of Mexico have spoken, and have called into being or accepted the so-called Empire, which it is insisted has been set up in their capital. The United States, as I have remarked on other occasions, are of opinion that such an acceptance could not have been freely procured, or lawfully taken, at any time, in the presence of the French army of invasion. The withdrawal of the French forces is deemed necessary to allow such a proceeding to be taken by Mexico. Of course the Emperor of France is entitled to determine the aspect in which the Mexican situation ought to be regarded by him. It therefore recognizes, and must continue to recognize in Mexico, only the ancient Republic, and it can in no case consent to involve itself, either directly or indirectly, in relation with or recognition of the institution of the Prince MAXIMILIAN in Mexico. This position is held, I believe, without one dissenting voice by our countrymen. I do not pretend to say that the opinion of the American people is accepted, or will be adopted generally by other foreign Powers, or by the public opinion of mankind. The Emperor is quite competent to form a judgment upon this important point for himself. I cannot, however, properly exclude the observation, that while this question affects by its bearings incidentally every republican State in the America hemisphere, every one of these States has adopted the judgment which, on the behalf of the United States, is herein expressed. Under these circumstances it has happened, either rightfully or wrongfully, that the presence of European armies in Mexico, maintaining a European Prince with imperial attributes, without her consent and against her will, is deemed a source of apprehension and danger, not alone to the United States, but also to all the independent and sovereign republican States founded on the American Continent and its adjacent islands. France is acquainted with the relations of the United States toward the other American States to which I have referred, and is aware of the sense that the American people entertain in regard to the obligations and duties due from them to those other States. We are thus brought back to the single question which formed the subject of my communication of the 6th of December last, namely: the desirableness of an adjustment of a question, the continuance of which must necessarily be prejudicial to the harmony and friendship which have hitherto existed between the United States and France. This Government does not undertake to say how the claims of indemnity and satisfaction for which the war, which France is waging in Mexico, was originally instituted shall now be adjusted, in discontinuing what, in its progress, has become a war of political intervention, dangerous to the United States and to republican institutions in the American hemisphere. Recognizing France and the Republic of Mexico as belligerents engaged in war, we leave all questions concerning these claims and indemnities to them. The United States rest content with submitting to France the exigencies of an embarrassing situation in Mexico, and expressing the hope that France may find some manner which shall at once be consistent with her interests and honor, and the principles and interests of the United States to relieve that situation without injurious delay. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS reports on this occasion what he has heretofore written, viz.: that it depends much upon the Federal Government to facilitate their desire of the withdrawal of the French troops from Mexico. He argues that the position which the United States have assumed has nothing incompatible with the existence of monarchical institutions in Mexico. He draws to his support on this point the fact that the President of the United States, as well as the Secretary of State, in official papers, disclaim all thought of propagandism on the American Continent in favor of republican institutions. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS draws in also the fact that the United States hold friendly relations with the Emperor of Brazil as they held similar relations with ITURBIDE, the Mexican Emperor in 1822. From these positions M. DROUYN DE LHUYS makes the deduction that neither any fundamental principle nor any precedent in the diplomatic history of this country creates any necessary antagonism between the United States and the form of Government over which the Prince MAXIMILIAN presides in the ancient capital of Mexico. I do not think it would be profitable, and therefore I am not desirous to engage in the discussion which DROUYN DE LHUYS has thus raised. It will be sufficient for my purpose on the present occasion to assert, and to give reassurance of our desire to facilitate the withdrawal of the French troops from Mexico, and for that purpose to do whatever shall be compatible with the positions we have heretofore taken upon the subject, and with our just regard to the sovereign rights of the Republic of Mexico. Further, or otherwise than this, France could not expect us to go. Having thus reassured France, it seems necessary to state anew the position of this Government, as it was set forth in my letter of the 6th of December, as follows: Republican and domestic institutions on this continent are deemed most congenial with and most beneficial to the United States. Where the people of any country like Brazil now, or Mexico in 1822, have voluntarily established and acquired in monarchical institutions of their own choice, free from all foreign control or intervention, the United States do not refuse to maintain relations with such Governments, or seek through propagandism by force or intrigue to overthrow those institutions. On the contrary, where a nation has established institutions, Republican and domestic similar to our own, the United States assert in their behalf that no foreign nation can rightfully intervene by force to subvert Republican institutions, and establish those of an antagonistical character. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS seems to think that I have made a double reproach against the Prince MAXIMILIAN's alleged Government, of the difficulty it encounters, and of the assistance it borrows from foreign powers. In that respect M. DROUYN DE LHUYS contends that the obstacles and resistance which MAXIMILIAN has been obliged to wrestle with have in themselves nothing especial against the form of the institutions which he is supposed by M. DROUYN DE LHUYS to have established. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS maintains that MAXIMILIAN's government is undergoing the lot quite common to new powers, while, above all, it has the misfortune to have to bear the consequences of discords which have been produced under a previous government. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS represents this misfortune and this lot to be in effect the misfortune and lot of governments which have not found armed competitors, and which have enjoyed in peace an uncontrolled authority. He alleges that revolts and intestine wars are the normal condition of Mexico, and he further insists that the opposition made by some military chiefs to the establishment of an empire under MAXIMILIAN is only the natural sequence of the same want of discipline and the same prevalence of anarchy of which his predecessors in power in Mexico have been victims. It is not the purpose, nor would it be consistent with the character of the United States to deny that Mexico has been for a long time the theatre of faction and intestine war. The United States confess this fact with regret; all the more sincere, because the experience of Mexico has been not only painful for her own people, but has been also of unfortunately evil influence on other nations. On the other hand, it is neither a right of the United States, nor consistent with their friendly disposition toward Mexico, to reproach the people of that country with their past calamities, much less to invoke or approve of the infliction of punishment upon them by strangers for their political errors. The Mexican population have, and their situation has some peculiarities which are, doubtless, well understood by France. Early in the present century they were forced by convictions, which mankind cannot but respect, to cast off a foreign monarchical rule, which they deemed incompatible with their welfare and aggrandizement. They were forced at the same time by convictions which the world must respect to attest the establishment of Republican institutions without the full experience and practical education and habits which could render these institutions all, at once, firm and satisfactory. Mexico was a theatre of conflict between European, commercial, ecclesiastical and political institutions and dogmas and novel American institutions and ideas. She had African Slavery, colonial restrictions and ecclesiastical monopolies. In the chief one of these particulars she had a misfortune which was shared by the United States, while the latter were happily exempted from the other misfortunes. We cannot deny that all the anarchy in Mexico, of which M. DROUYN DE LHUYS complains, was necessarily and even wisely endured in the attempts to lay sure foundations of broad Republican liberty. I do not know whether France can rightfully be expected to concur in this view, which alleviates in our mind the errors, misfortunes and calamities of Mexico. However this may be, we fall back upon the principles that no foreign state can rightfully intervene in such trials as those of Mexico, and on the ground of a desire to correct those errors, deprive the people there of their natural right of domestic and republican freedom. All the injuries and wrongs which Mexico can have committed against any other State, have found a severe punishment in consequences which legitimately follow their commission. Nations are not authorized to correct each other's errors, except so far as is necessary to prevent or redress injuries affecting themselves. If one State has a right to intervene in any other State to establish, discipline, constituting itself a judge of the occasion, then every State has the same right to intervene in the affairs of every other nation, being itself alone the arbiter, both in regard to the time and the occasion. The principle of intervention thus practically carried out would seem to render all sovereignty and independence, and even all international peace and amity, uncertain and fallacious.

M. DROUYN DE LHUYS proceeds to remark that as for the support which MAXIMILIAN received from the French army, as well also as for the support which has been lent to him by Belgian and Austrian volunteers, those supports cause no hindrance to the freedom of his resolutions in the affairs of his Government.

M. DROUYN DE LHUYS asks what State is there that does not need allies either to form or to defend. As to the great Powers, such as France and England, do they not constantly maintain foreign troops in their armies. When the United States fought for their independence, did the aid given by France cause that movement to cease to be truly National? Shall it be said that the contest between the United States and the recent insurgents, was not in a like manner a national war, because thousands of Irishmen and Germans were found fighting under the flag of the United States? Arguing from anticipated answers to these questions, M. DROUYN DE LHUYS reaches a conclusion that the character of MAXIMILIAN's Government cannot be contested, nor can its efforts to consolidate itself be contested on the ground of the employment of foreign troops. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS in this argument seems to us to have overlooked two important facts, viz: 1. That the United States in this correspondence have assigned definite limits to the right of alliance incompatible with our assent to his argument. 2. The fact that the United States have not at any time accepted the supposed government of the Prince Maximilian as a constitutional or legitimate form of government in Mexico, capable or entitled to form alliances. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS then arranges in a graphic manner the advantages that have arisen or are to arise to the United States from the successful establishment of the supposed empire in Mexico. Instead of a country unceasingly in trouble, and which has given us so many subjects of complaint, and against which we ourselves have been obliged to make war, he shows us in Mexico a pacific country, under a benificent imperial sway, offering henceforth measures of security and vast openings to our commerce; a country far from injuring our rights and hurting our influences. And he assures us that above all other nations the United States are the most likely to profit by the work which is being accomplished by Prince MAXIMILIAN in Mexico. These suggestions are as natural on the part of France as they are friendly to the United States. The United States are not insensible to the desirableness of political and commercial reform in the adjoining country, but their settled principles, habits, and convictions forbid them to look for such changes in this hemisphere, to foreign, royal or imperial institutions, founded upon a forcible subversion of republican institutions. The United States, in their accustomed sobriety, regard no beneficial results which could come from such a change in Mexico as sufficient to overbalance the injury which they must directly suffer by the overthrow of the Republican Government of Mexico.

M. DROUYN DE LHUYS, at the end of his very elaborate and able review, recapitulates his exposition in the following words: "The United States acknowledge the right we had to make war in Mexico. On the other part we admit, as they do, the principle of non-intervention. This double postulate includes, as it seems to me, the element of an agreement. The right to make war, which belongs, as Mr. SEWARD declares, to every sovereign nation, implies the right to secure the results of war. We have not gone across the ocean merely for the purpose of showing our power, and of inflicting chastisement on the Mexican Government. After a train of fruitless remonstrances, it was our duty to demand guarantees, we could not look for from a Government whose bad faith we had proved on so many occasions. We find them now engaged in the establishment of a regular Government which shows itself disposed to honestly keep its engagements. In this relation we hope that the legitimate object of our expedition will soon be reached. And we are striving to make with the Emperor MAXIMILIAN arrangements which, by satisfying our interests and our honor, will permit us to consider at an end the service of the army on Mexican soil. The Emperor has given an order to write in this sense to our Minister at Mexico. We fall back at that moment upon the principle of non-intervention, and from that moment accept it as the rule of our conduct. Our interest no less than our honor commands us to claim from all the uniform application of it. Trusting the spirit of equity which animates the Cabinet of Washington, we expect from it the assurance that the American people will themselves conform to the law which they invoke by observing in regard to Mexico a strict neutrality. When you [meaning the Marquis de MONTHOLON] shall have informed me of the resolution of the Federal Government, I shall be able to indicate to you the nature of the results of our negotiations with the Emperor MAXIMILIAN for the return of our troops."

I have already, and not without much reluctance, made the comments upon the arguments of M. DROUYN DE LHUYS which seem to be necessary to guard against the inference of concurrence in questionable positions which might be drawn from our entire silence. I think that I can, therefore, afford to leave his recapitulation of those arguments without such an especial review as would be necessarily prolix and perhaps hypercritical. The United States have not claimed, and they do not claim to know what arrangements the Emperor may make for the adjustment of claims for indemnity and redress in Mexico. It would be on our part an act of intervention to take cognizance of them. We adhere to our position that the war in question has become a political war between France and the Republic of Mexico, injurious and dangerous to the United States, and to the Republican cause, and we ask only that in that aspect and character it may be brought to an end. It would be illiberal on the part of the United States to suppose that in desiring or pursuing preliminary arrangements, the Emperor contemplates the establishment in Mexico before withdrawing his forces of the very institutions which constitute the material ground of the exceptions taken against his intervention by the United States. It would be still more illiberal to suppose for a moment that he expects the United States to bind themselves indirectly to acquiesce in or support the obnoxious institutions. On the contrary we understand him as announcing to us his immediate purpose to bring to an end the service of the armies in Mexico, to withdraw them, and in good faith to fall back without stipulation or condition on our part upon the principle of non-intervention, upon which he is henceforth agreed with the United States. We cannot understand his appeal to us for an assurance that we ourselves will abide by our own principles of non-intervention in any other sense than as the expression in a friendly way of his expectation that when the people of Mexico shall have been left absolutely free from the operation, effects and consequences of his own political and military intervention we will ourselves respect their self-established sovereignty and independence. In this view of the subject only can we consider his appeal pertinent to the case. Regarding it in only this aspect, we must meet the Emperor frankly. He knows the form and character of this Government. The nation can be bound only by treaties which have the concurrence of the President and two-thirds of the Senate. A formal treaty would be objectionable, as unnecessary, except as a disavowal of bad faith on our part, to disarm suspicion in regard to a matter concerning which we have given no cause for questioning our loyalty, or else such a treaty would be refused, upon the ground that the application for it, by the Emperor of France, was, unhappily, a suggestion of some sinister or unfriendly reservation or purpose, on his part, in withdrawing from Mexico. Diplomatic assurances given by the President in behalf of the nation can, at best, be but the expressions of confident expectations, on his part, that the personal administration, ever changing in conformity and adaptation to the national will, does not misunderstand the settled principles and policy of the American people. Explanations cannot properly be made by the President in any case wherein it would be deemed, for any reason, objectionable, on grounds of public policy, by the treaty-making power of the Government, to introduce or entertain negotiations.

With these explanations I proceed to say that, in the opinion of the President, France need not for a moment delay her promised withdrawal of military forces from Mexico, and her putting the principle of non-intervention into full and complete practice in regard to Mexico through any apprehension that the United States will prove unfaithful to the principles and policy in that respect which, on their behalf, it has been my duty to maintain in this now very lengthened correspondence. The practice of this Government, from the beginning, is a guarantee to all nations of the respect of the American people for the free sovereignty of the people in every other State. We received the instruction from Washington; we applied it sternly in our early intercourse even with France. The same principle and practice have been uniformly inculcated by all our own statesmen, interpreted by all our jurists, maintained by all our Congresses, and acquiesced in without practical dissent, on all occasions, by the American people. It is in reality the chief element of foreign intercourse in our history. Looking simply toward the point to which our attention has been steadily confined to, the relief of the Mexican embarrassments, without disturbing our relations with France, we shall be gratified when the Emperor shall give to us, either through the channel of our esteemed correspondent, or otherwise, definite information of the time when French military operations may be expected to cease. Here I might, perhaps, properly conclude this note. Some obscurity, however, might be supposed to rest upon the character of the principle of non-intervention which we are authorized to suppose is now agreed upon between the United States and France as a rule of their future Government in regard to Mexico. I shall therefore reproduce on this occasion, by way of illustration, some of the forms in which that principle has been maintained by us in our previous intercourse with France. In 1861, when alluding to the possibility that the Emperor might be invoked by rebel emissaries from the United States to intervene in our civil war, I observed that the Emperor of France had given abundant proofs that he considers the people in every country the rightful source of authority, and that its only legitimate objects are their safety, freedom and welfare. I wrote also on the same occasion, these words to Mr. DAYTON: "I have thus, under the President's direction, placed before you a simple, unexaggerated and dispassionate statement of the origin, nature and purpose of the rebellion, deducing from it the arguments you will find it necessary to employ in opposing the application of the so-called Confederate States to the Government of His Majesty the Emperor for a recognition of their independence and sovereignty. The President neither expects nor desires any intervention, or even any favor from the Government of France, or any other, in this emergency. Whatever else he may consent to do he will never invoke, or even admit foreign interference in this or any other controversy, in which the Government of the United States may be engaged with any portion of the American people. Foreign intervention would oblige us to treat those who should yield to it as allies of the insurrectionary party, and carry on the war against them as enemies. However other European Powers may mistake, His Majesty is the last one of those European sovereigns to misapprehend the nature of this controversy. He knows that the Revolution of 1776 in this country was a successful contest of the great American idea of free popular government against prejudices and errors. He knows that the conflict awakened the sympathies of mankind and that ultimately the triumph of that idea has been hailed by all European nations. He knows at what cost European nations for a time resisted the progress of that idea, and perhaps is not unwilling to confess how much France especially has profited by it. He will not fail to recognize the presence of that one great idea in the present conflict, nor will he mistake the side on which it will be found. It is, in short, the very principle of universal suffrage, with its claim of obedience to its decrees, on which the Government of France is built. That is put in issue by the insurrection here, and is in this emergency to be vindicated and more effectually than ever established by the Government o the United States. In writing upon the same subject to Mr. DAYTON, on the 30th of May, 1861, I said: "Nothing is wanting to that success except that foreign nations shall leave us, as is our right, to manage our own affairs in our own way. They, as well as we, can only suffer by this intervention. No one, we are sure, can judge better than the Emperor of France how dangerous and deplorable would be the emergency that should intrude Europeans into the political contests of the American people. In declining the offer of French mediation on the 8th of June, 1861, I wrote to Mr. DAYTON, the present paramount duty of the Government is to save the integrity of the American Union. Absolute, self-sustaining independence is the first and most indispensable element of national existence. This is a republican nation. All its domestic affairs must be conducted and even adjusted in constitutional forms, and upon constitutional republican principles. This is an American nation, and its internal affairs must not only be conducted with reference to its peculiar continental position, but by and through American agencies alone. On the 1st of August, 1862, Mr. ADAMS was instructed by this Government in the following words: Did the European States which found and occupied the Continent almost without effort then understand its real destiny and purposes? Have they ever yet fully understood and accepted them? Has anything but disappointment upon disappointment resulted from their misapprehensions? After near four hundred years of such disappointments and disasters, is the way of Providence, in regard to the American people, still so mysterious that it cannot be understood and confessed? COLUMBUS, it was said, had given a new world to the kingdoms of Castile and Leon. What has become of the sovereignty of Spain in America? RICHELIEU occupied and fortified a large portion of the Continent, extending from the Gulf of Mexico to the Straits of Belle Isle. Does France yet retain that important appendage to the Crown of her sovereignty? Great Britain acquired dominion here surpassing by one hundred fold in length and breadth the native realm. Has not a large portion of it been already resigned? To whom have these vast dominions, with those founded by the Portuguese, the Dutch and the Swedes, been resigned but to American nations, the growth of European colonists and exiles, who have come hither, bringing with them the arts, the civilization, and the virtues of Europe? Has not the change been beneficial to society on the continent? Has it not been more beneficial even to Europe itself than continued European domination, if it had been possible, could have been? The American nations which have grown up here are free and self-governing; they have made themselves so from inherent vigor and in obedience to absolute necessity. Is it possible for European States to plunge them again into a colonial State and hold them there? Would it be desirable for them, and for Europe, if it were possible? The balance of power among the nations of Europe is maintained not without numerous armies and frequent conflicts, while the sphere of political ambition there is bounded by the ocean which surrounds that Continent. Would it be possible to maintain it at all, if this vast Continent, with all its populations, their resources and their forces, should once again be brought within that sphere?

On the contrary, of all these suppositions, is it not manifest that these American nations were called into existence to be the home of freemen; that the States of Europe have been intrusted by Providence with their tutelage, but that tutelage, and its responsibilities and powers, are necessarily withdrawn to the relief and benefit of the parties, and of mankind, when these parties become able to choose their own system of government, and to make and administer their own laws. If they err in this choice, or in the conduct of their affairs, it will be found wise to leave them, like all other States, the privilege and responsibility of detecting and correcting the error by which they are, of course, the principal sufferers.

On the 8th of May, 1862, Mr. DAYTON was instructed to express to Mr. THOUVENAL the desire of the United States that peaceful relations may soon be restored between France and Mexico, upon a basis just to both parties, and favorable to the independence and sovereignty of the people of Mexico, which is equally the interest of France and all other enlightened nations. On the 21st of June, 1862, Mr. DAYTON was authorized to speak, on behalf of the United States, concerning the condition of Mexico in these words: "France has a right to make war against Mexico, and determine for herself the cause. We have a right to insist that France shall not improve the war she makes to raise up, in Mexico, an Anti-Republican or Anti-American Government, or to maintain such a Government there."

Accept, Sir, a renewed assurance of my high consideration. (Signed.) WM. H. SEWARD.

LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES,
PARIS, April 6, 1866.

SIR: The Moniteur of yesterday morning announced that as a sequence to the communications exchanged between M. DANA, (?) the Minister of France, His Excellency Marshal BAZAINE, and the Mexican Government, the Emperor has decided that the French troops shall evacuate Mexico in three detachments; the first to leave in November, 1866, the second in March, 1867, and the third in November, 1867.

At M. DROUYN DE LHUYS' reception yesterday afternoon, I remarked that I supposed the paragraph in the Moniteur might be regarded as an official statement of the result of Baron SAILLARD's mission. He said it might; and then added that it was substantially what they had prefigured to me in conversation last Fall. He went on to say that the reasons for the debarking of the troops were selected from climactic and sanitary considerations.

I am, with great respect,
Your very obedient servant,
JOHN BIGELOW.

THE MARQUIS DE MONTHOLON TO MR. SEWARD.

LEGATION OF FRANCE TO THE UNITED STATES,
WASHINGTON, April 21, 1866.

Mr. Secretary of State:

SIR: I hasten to remit herewith to your Excellency a copy of a dispatch which I at the moment receive from H. E. M. DROUYN DE LHUYS, and which answers the dispatch you were pleased to address to me relative to Mexican affairs on the 12th of February last. Accept, Mr. Secretary of State, the assurances of my high consideration. MONTHOLON.

To the Hon. WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

MR. SEWARD TO MR. BIGELOW.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, April 21, 1866.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your dispatch of the 6th of April, No. 297. It is accompanied by a copy of the Moniteur, the official organ of the Government of France, to the effect following: That the Emperor has decided that the French troops shall evacuate Mexico in three detachments, the first to leave in November, 1866, the second in March, 1867, and the third in November, 1867. You inform me that you learn from M. DROUYN DE LHUYS that the decision mentioned in the Moniteur may be regarded as an official statement of the result of Baron SAILLARD's mission in Mexico. Presuming that we may expect very soon to receive a direct communication of the Emperor's views on the subject of the proposed evacuation of Mexico, I think a discussion on our part of the newly presented points in the subject of French intervention would at the present moment be premature.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

To JOHN BIGELOW, &c., &c., Paris.

M. DROUYN DE LHUYS TO THE MARQUIS DE MONTHOLON.

[Translation.]

PARIS, April 5, 1866.

To the Marquis de Montholon:

SIR—I have read with all the attention which it deserves the answer of the Secretary of State to my dispatch of the 9th of January last.

The scrupulous care with which Mr. SEWARD has pleased to analyze that dispatch, and the extended considerations upon which he has entered to define, in regard to the exposé which I have made of the conduct of France in the affairs of Mexico, the doctrines which are the basis of the international policy of the United States, bear witness in our eyes to the interest which the Cabinet of Washington attaches to putting aside all misapprehension. We find therein the evidences of its desire to cause the sentiments of amity which the traditions of a long alliance have cemented between our two countries, to prevail over the accidental divergencies, often inevitable in the movement of affairs, and the relation of Governments. It is in this disposition that we have appreciated the communication which the Secretary of State has addressed to you the 1st of January last. I shall not follow Mr. SEWARD in the developments he has given to the exposition of the principles which direct the policy of the American Union. It does not appear to me opportune or profitable to prolong, on points of decline or of history, a discussion wherein many may differ in opinion from the Government of the United States, without danger to the interests of the two countries. I think it better, to serve those interests, to abstain from discussing assertions, in my opinion, very contestable, in order to take action on assurances which may contribute to facilitate our understanding. We never hesitate to offer to our friends the explanations they ask from us, and we hasten to give to the Cabinet at Washington all those which may enlighten it on the purpose we are pursuing in Mexico, and on the loyalty of our intention. We have said to it, at the same time, that the certainty we should acquire of its resolution to observe in regard to that country after our departure, a policy of non-intervention, would hasten the moment when it would be possible for us, without compromising the interests which led us there, to withdraw our troops and put an end to an occupation, the duration of which we are sincerely desirous to abridge. In his dispatch of the 12th of February last, Mr. SEWARD calls to mind on his part, that the Government of the United States has conformed, during the whole course of its history, to the rule of conduct which it received from WASHINGTON, by practising invariably the principle of non-intervention, and observes that nothing justifies the apprehension that it should show itself unfaithful in what may concern Mexico. We receive this assurance with entire confidence. We find therein a sufficient guarantee not any longer to delay the adoption of measures intended to prepare for the return of our army. The Emperor has decided that the French troops shall evacuate Mexico in three detachments, the first being intended to depart in the month of November, 1866; the second in March, 1867, and the third in the month of November in the same year. You will please to communicate this decision officially to the Secretary of State.

Receive, Marquis, the assurance of my high consideration. (Signed.) DROYN DE LHUYS.

To the Marquis DE MONTHOLON, Minister of the Emperor at Washington.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, April 23, 1866.

MY DEAR MARQUIS: I hasten in advance of the departure of the mail to acknowledge the receipt of your note of the 21st instant, together with the copy of a dispatch you were pleased to give me, which was addressed to you on the 5th inst. by M. DROUYN DE LHUYS, in which the Minister for Foreign Affairs of the Empire of France replies to the communication I had the honor to address to you concerning Mexican affairs on the 12th of February last. The subject will early receive the considerate attention of the President of the United States.

I am, my dear Marquis, very faithfully yours,
WM. H. SEWARD.

The Marquis DE MONTHOLON, &c., &c.

[No. 167.]

MR. SEWARD TO MR. MOTLEY.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, March 19, 1866.

SIR: Mr. BIGELOW informs me by a dispatch of the 15th of February that he learned from an unofficial source that GREGORIO BARANDYN, the diplomatic representative of the Archduke MAXIMILIAN, formerly Secretary of Legation under Senor ROBLES at Washington, is now in Paris to fit out 10,000 Austrians, who he says are ready to embark from Trieste for Mexico.

The Mexican Minister informed him that there was no money in his hands. I am not sure of learning the result of the Minister's suit here, as the money, if furnished, must come through indirect and concealed channels. You are instructed to inquire concerning the facts, and, if they justify the report, to bring to the knowledge of the Austrian Government seasonably that the United States cannot regard with unconcern a proceeding which would seem to bring Austria into alliance with the invaders of Mexico, to subvert the domestic government of the Republic, and build up foreign imperial institutions. It is hoped that Austria will give us frank explanations.

I am Sir, your obedient servant,
WM. H. SEWARD.

LATHROP MOTLEY, Esq., &c., &c., Vienna.

MR. SEWARD TO MR. MOTLEY.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON,
March 19, 1866.

SIR: I have your dispatch of the 27th of February, No. 150, by which we learn that efforts are now made to induce the Austrian Government to consent that 4,000 volunteers may be levied within that Empire this year for Mexico, on the ground that the supplementary articles of the Convention of Miramar permitted 2,000 each year, and that none were forwarded in the year 1865. Upon this statement of facts, you express the opinion that the consent desired will probably be accorded by the Imperial Government, so that if the funds can be obtained for paying, equipping and transporting 4,000 officers and volunteers, they will be found, and may be expected in Mexico this year. At the same time you state that it is your opinion that the funds have not yet been furnished. The case thus presented renders it proper that I should call your especial attention to my dispatch No. 167, which bears the date of, and is sent forward this day. In preparing that dispatch I anticipated the case substantially which your communication now presents. You cannot, while practicing the courtesy and respect which are due to the Austrian Government, be either too earnest or too emphatic in the protest you have been directed to make. In performing this duty you may be assisted by information of the actual state of the question concerning French intervention in Mexico at the present moment. With this I give you confidentially a copy of my note addressed to M. MONTHOLON, on the 12th day of February last. As yet no reply has been received to this note, nor have its contents become public. You will, therefore, see the propriety of being discreet in such use of it as you may find it necessary to make.

After reading that paper you will be gratified in saying that the American Government and people would not be likely to be pleased with seeing Austria, at this juncture, assume the character of a protector to a foreign military Power, which, claiming the power of an Empire, is attempted to be set up on the supposed subverted foundations of the Republic of Mexico.

I am, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
WM. H. SEWARD.

J. LATHROP MOTLEY, Esq., &c., &c., Vienna.

[No. 173.]

MR. SEWARD TO MR. MOTLEY.

WASHINGTON, April 6, 1866.

SIR: An informal note has just been received from Mr. BIGELOW, the United States Minister at Paris. In this note Mr. BIGELOW writes in substance as follows:

The Moniteur, of the 21st of March, announces that a military convention was signed at Vienna, on the 15th inst., between the Austrian Government and the representatives of MAXIMILIAN, supplementary to a convention of the same nature, which had been previously concluded between the same parties. The purpose of this engagement, says the Moniteur, is to insure the enrollment necessary to keep full the Austrian Corps in Mexico.

Mr. BIGELOW further writes as follows:

"I have seen it stated, in another journal, that a line of steamers is to be started from Trieste to Vera Cruz, to ply regularly after the 1st of April."

Again Mr. BIGELOW furnishes an extract from the Paris Constitutionnel of the 21st of March. "We learn from the Fremdenblatt of Vienna that the enlistment for Mexico will begin immediately, that the funds had been received from Paris two months since. Your dispatches, of dates almost as late as that of Mr. BIGELOW's note are silent upon the rumors which he brings to the notice of this Government. It is possible that more authentic information which you may possess concerning the disposition and proceedings of the Austrian Government may enable you to treat the matter mentioned by Mr. BIGELOW with indifference. Looking at the matter, however, from one point of observation, the rumors referred to are deemed sufficient to entitle us to ask a friendly and just exposition of the Imperial Royal Government of the relations which it proposes to assume, to assure or maintain henceforth in regard to Mexico. You are, therefore, expected to execute the instructions which have heretofore been sent to you to that effect, and it is thought proper that you should state that in the event of hostilities being carried on hereafter in Mexico by Austrian subjects under the command or with the sanction of the Government of Vienna, the United States will feel themselves at liberty to regard those hostilities as constituting a state of war by Austria against the Republic of Mexico, and in regard to such war waged at this time and under existing circumstances, the United States could not engage to remain as silent or neutral spectators. The President may desire to call the attention of Congress to this interesting subject. You will see the importance, therefore, of obtaining the information which is desired as early as may be practicable consistently with the courtesies due to Austria as a friendly Government. Should you, however, find important reasons, now unknown to us, for deferring the execution of this instruction, you will be at liberty to exercise your discretion and report the reasons to us.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

J. LATHROP MOTLEY, Esq., &c., &c., Vienna.

MR. SEWARD TO MR. MOTLEY.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, April 16, 1866.

SIR: I have had the honor to receive your dispatch of the 27th March, (No. 155,) which brings the important announcement that a treaty called a "Military Supplementary Convention" was ratified on the 15th of that month between the Emperor of Austria and Prince MAXIMILIAN, who claims to be an Emperor in Mexico. You inform me that it is expected that about one thousand volunteers will be shipped under the treaty from Trieste to Vera Cruz very soon, and that at least as many more will be shipped in the Autumn. I have heretofore given you the President's instructions, to ask for explanations, and conditionally to inform the Government of Austria that the dispatch of military expeditions by Austria under such an arrangement as the one which seems now to have been consummated would be regarded with serious concern by the United States. The subject has now been further considered in connection with the official information thus recently received. The time seems to have arrived when the attitude of this Government in relation to Mexican affairs should be once again frankly and distinctly made known to the Emperor of Austria and all other Powers whom it may directly concern. The United States, for reasons which seem to them to be just, and to have their foundations in the laws of nations, maintain that the domestic Republican Government with which they are on relations of friendly communication is the only legitimate Government existing in Mexico; that a war has for a period of several years been waged against that Republic by the Government of France, which was begun with a disclaimer of all political or dynastic designs; that that war has subsequently taken upon itself and now distinctly wears the character of an European intervention to overthrow that domestic Republican Government and to erect in its stead an European imperial military despotism by military force. The United States, in view of the character of their own political institutions, their proximity and intimate relations toward Mexico and their just influence on the political affairs of the American Continent, cannot consent to the accomplishment of that purpose by the means described. The United States have therefore addressed themselves, as they think reasonably, to the Government of France, and have asked that its military forces engaged in that objectionable political invasion may desist from further intervention and be withdrawn from Mexico.

A copy of the last communication upon the subject, which was addressed by the United States to the Government of France, is herewith transmitted for your special information. This paper will give you the true situation of the question. It will also enable you to satisfy the Government of Vienna that the United States must be no less opposed to military intervention, for political objects hereafter in Mexico, by the Government of Austria, than they are opposed to any further intervention of the same character in that country by France. You will, therefore, act at as early a day as may be convenient; bring the whole case in a becoming manner to the attention of the Imperial Royal Government. You are authorized to state that the United States sincerely desires that Austria may find it just and expedient to come upon the same ground of non-intervention in Mexico which is maintained by the United States, and to which they have invited France. You will communicate to us the answer of the Austrian Government to this proposition. This Government could not but regard as a matter of serious concern, the dispatch of any troops from Austria for Mexico while the subject which you are thus directed to present to the Austrian Government remains under consideration.

I am sir, your obedient servant,
WM. H. SEWARD.

J. LOTHROP MOLLEY, Esq., Vienna.

New-York City Railways.

From the Albany Evening Journal, April 21.

The Legislature adjourned without authorizing the construction of either of the various railways, "Underground," "Elevated," or "Surface," which had been proposed for expediting and cheapening communication between the upper and lower portions of our great and rapidly growing metropolis.

We have not deemed it necessary to devote our columns to the advocacy of any of these different and conflicting plans; believing that, in due time, the good sense of the citizens of New-York, in view of the constantly increasing necessities of the case, would discover the most proper and adequate remedy for practically diminishing the rapidly widening space between their places of residence and their places of business—and the constantly growing obstruction by their steadily increasing numbers.

A movement in the right direction was yesterday made in the Senate upon a brief memorial presented by Mr. SAMUEL B. RUGGLES, on behalf of himself and other residents of Union-square, asking for the appointment of a competent Commission to examine and report to the next Legislature, after full consideration and comparison, the route or routes most advantageous to the City and least injurious to its citizens.

The memorial is as follows:

To the Honorable the Legislature of the State of New-York:

The undersigned, in behalf of himself and other owners and occupants of houses and lots on the east side of Fourth-avenue (on Union-square) in the City of New-York, having learned that it is proposed to substitute, in the bill pending in the Senate, said Fourth-avenue, on Union-square, as part of the proposed line of an "Elevated Railway" in Broadway, respectfully remonstrates against the occupation of said square, or any street bounding thereon, for the purpose of said Elevated Railway.

Because it would greatly and needlessly injure said square and the buildings thereon, which are ornamental to the City, and now pay large taxes to the public treasury; and which have been erected by the undersigned and others at large expense, on the faith that said square would remain unobstructed and freely accessible.

Because, a more easterly or westerly route for an elevated railway may readily be found through streets or properties less valuable as places of business, and more suitable to the purpose of a railway:

And especially, because the whole subject of the proper location of railways to facilitate the transit between the upper and lower parts of the City, ought to be first submitted to the careful and impartial consideration of a Special Committee or Commission of competent experience, to be appointed by the Legislature, to determine, after full examination and comparison, the location of the railway or railways, which will secure the greatest practicable facilities of transit and the greatest public advantage to the City, with the least practicable cost and injury to the adjacent property to be affected.

Two such lines might be advantageously and economically selected, which would avoid disturbing the valuable series of public squares occupying the middle of the City, and better accommodate the great majority of our population in the eastern and western divisions of the City, by lines respectively lying nearer to the Hudson and to the East Rivers.

The undersigned respectfully petitions that such a committee or commission may be appointed.

SAMUEL B. RUGGLES.

ALBANY, April 19, 1866.

This memorial was presented to the Senate yesterday, while the debate was pending on the "Elevated Railway" Bill, and which resulted in its defeat by a vote of 8 ayes to 13 nays.

Senator ANDREWS thereupon moved the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a Select Committee of three be appointed to sit during the recess, with the Mayor of the City of New-York, the State Engineer and the Engineer of the Croton Board, to ascertain and report to the Senate the most advantageous and proper route or routes for a railway or railways suited to the rapid transportation of passengers from the upper to the lower portion of the City of New-York; having in view the greatest practical benefit and safety to the public, and the least loss and injury to property on or adjacent to said route or routes.

Senators ANDREWS, LOW and C. G. CORNELL were thereupon appointed on the Committee or Commission, to act with the State Engineer, the Mayor of New-York, and the Engineer of the Croton Aqueduct.

The selection of this Commission seems to be wisely made, in uniting various elements of State and City authority, and in leading to a full examination of the subject in all its aspects, and a general union of public sentiment on the best and most feasible mode of supplying a great public necessity.

THE TRIAL OF DAVIS.

Attorney General SPEED has under consideration the matter of the trial of JEFF. DAVIS in the United States Circuit Court of Virginia, which meets on the first Monday in May at Norfolk, unless Congress shall in the meantime pass a bill changing the place of holding the Court to Richmond. A proposition of this kind is now being urged in the House. It is not settled, however, where DAVIS will be tried, but whether or not he shall be tried in the State of Virginia will be determined upon the arrival of Chief-Justice CHASE, who is expected here this week. If Judge CHASE interposes no objection a charge against DAVIS for treason will be submitted to the United States Grand Jury to be convened in Norfolk and Richmond as before suggested.

TRIALS OF LEE, WISE AND OTHERS.

The Attorney-General has also been in consultation with Judge UNDERWOOD with reference to the trials of WISE, LEE and some sixty others who were indicted for treason in the United States District Court at Norfolk last Summer. It is not likely that the indictment against Gen. LEE will be prosecuted at the May term, if, indeed, the trial shall ever take place. It is proposed to try first of the persons indicted at Norfolk, HENRY A. WISE, and in all probability that will be the only case disposed of this season in Virginia, unless it be determined to try DAVIS, and in that event no effort will be made to try WISE during the May term.

THE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE.

The past few days have been very prolific in predictions of what the Reconstruction Committtee were about to report, and many ridiculous statements have been put forth. Among others it is asserted that ROBERT DALE OWEN has at last come to the rescue of the Committee, and furnished it with, something which it could not furnish itself, viz: a plan upon which it could agree. That the Committee will shortly make their final report is true; but nothing is known of the character of that report, beyond the general features of a constitutional amendment on representation and the exclusion of rebels from Federal office, which it is well understood, have been settled upon.

THE TENNESSEE DELEGATION.

In the House to-day Mr. LATHAM, of West Virginia, offered a resolution discharging the Reconstruction Committee from the further consideration of the credentials of the Tennessee Delegation. After considerable debate and confusion, Mr. CONKLING made the point of order that the matter of the admission of Representatives from Tennessee having been reported upon by the Committee, and that report having been recommitted, and a motion entered to reconsider the vote of recommittal, therefore the matter could not be reached by the resolution, nothing being in order on that subject but a consideration of the vote to reconsider the recommittal. The Speaker sustained the point of order, and the resolution was ruled out of order. The discussion and scene was decidedly animating, and was the only thing of interest in the House.

THE RICHMOND BANKS.

It will be remembered that after the surrender of Gen. LEE the military in Georgia captured $100,000 in gold, which was claimed by the Farmers, the Exchange and the Bank of Virginia, at Richmond. Recent investigations of the facts, however, show that a few weeks before the evacuation of Richmond, the Legislature of Virginia passed a law authorizing the said banks to loan the Confederate Government, upon the faith of the State, $300,000 of gold, to purchase supplies for LEE's army. This sum was placed by the respective banks to the credit of the rebel Government, and, before the surrender of LEE, $60,000 was paid, leaving $240,000, belonging to the rebel Government, with these banks at the time of the evacuation. The Government, therefore, claims not only the $100,000 captured in Georgia, but also the $140,000 additional in custody of the banks. This is the present condition of the question. The notes of these banks have been bought up with the expectation that the Government would relinquish its title to the $240,000 of gold.

DISCUSSION ABOUT APPOINTMENTS.

The Senate was engaged this afternoon in the consideration of Mr. HENDERSON's amendment to the Post-office Bill, a copy of which was included in my dispatch in Saturday's TIMES. The amendment was generally regarded as merely declaratory of the meaning of the Constitution, and the discussion arose mainly upon the question whether the President has the power to make an appointment at all during the session of the Senate without the assent of the Senate. The debate was of a desultory character, and disclosed a variety of opinions upon mere technicalities and constructions of the Constitution. Without concluding the discussion the Senate went into Executive session.

The Chief and representatives of the Minnesota band of Chippewa Indians had an interview, according to appointment, during which the Chief addressed the President through the interpreter.

EDUCATIONAL INVESTIGATIONS.

A delegation of Boston city officials and gentlemen connected with the educational interests of Massachusetts have lately been sent out by that city to visit various States and examine the best specimens of common school buildings, for the purpose of ascertaining if any features in the construction of such buildings were worthy of adoption in the Massachusetts Public School buildings. To-day they visited some of our school buildings in company with the Mayor of Washington, the School Trustees and some of the members of the city councils. They also visited several of the freedmen's schools, and were subsequently entertained by the Mayor at his residence.

There is a large increase on the deposit line of the present Bank Statement. The Currency

Deposits gain	$5,194,775
Specie Deposits lose	1,539,666
Aggregate increase	$3,655,109

The Banks, on these increased Currency balances, were not able to lend, even at cheap rates of interest, within $1,942,786 of the sums paid into them on their previous loans. But they seem to have accummulated $3,692,318 Legal-Tender Notes, the bulk of which is, no doubt, in Compound 6 ₩ cent. Notes, bought in at about par and accumulated interest. While the loss of Specie in Bank is over a million and a half to pay Customs Duties, the Treasury Office gained during the week two and a half millions from Customs, and a half million by way of transfer from the San Francisco Custom-house.

The easy condition of the Bank Statement is confirmatory of the very cheap Money market noticed at the close of last week. The chief employment to-day is in Government securities, on which there is a further advance for 5-20s and 10-40s, and a firm demand, at Saturday's rise, for 7.30s. At the Stock Exchange the Railway speculation continues to advance, but the amount of Stocks borrowed upon on the Street is not perceptibly on the increase. Indeed, a number of the most active of the Railway shares are quite scarce for cash delivery, notwithstanding the inducement held out to actual holders to realize on the present advance.

The Gold Room was steady to-day at 126⅛@126⅜ ₩ cent., with only a moderate speculation. The Customs demand to-day was about half a million. The Exchange people were somewhat disappointed at the non-receipt of later news from Europe, and some of the leading drawers advanced their rate to 107⅞@107⅞ for the Boston mail steamer, though most of the business for this packet was postponed to Tuesday.

The loans of money on call to the Brokers to-day were made at 4@5 ₩ cent., and Merchant paper of the prime class, short dates, could be passed at 6 ₩ cent. The balances offered by lenders on temporary employment, at present cheap rates, are larger than we have known them to be for several years past, and this condition of the market is in some respects from the cheap Money occasionally, or periodically, offered during the War. Then the Government was a constant borrower, and there was always an outlet for balances through the Treasury. At present, Money lenders have either to buy Government securities from third parties, or else leave their money at very low rates of interest with the great dealers in these securities in Wall-street. They consult their best interest in many instances by buying United States Stocks and Treasury paper for their own account, for the twofold reason that they pay a better interest and the Government Brokers are not able to use their balances all the time, even at the lowest rates. Such was the difficulty to-day. Money was declined at 4 ₩ cent. on Government collateral.

The additional rise on the Railway list today was quite general, and the market was unusually animated, particularly in the afternoon. The demand extended through the New-York and Western lines—New-York Central advancing to 94⅛, Erie to 74⅛, Northwest Preferred to 59⅞, Common to 29⅛, Michigan Southern to 84⅞, and Fort Wayne to 99⅛, ₩ cent. Reading Shares rose to 104⅞@105 ₩ cent. At 5:30 P. M. the following quotations were made, as compared with Saturday afternoon—market strong and upward. Gold was less firm at the close:

	Sat.	Mon.		Sat.	Mon.
U. S. 10-40s	93⅜	94⅛	Northwest	27⅞	28⅜

The day's business at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of the United States was as follows: Total receipts, $100,278,889 95; for Customs, $486,000; on account of Loan, $802,000; Gold notes, $374,000; Payments, $10,105,729 64; Balance, $90,173,160 31.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

A Bureau for the Supply of Gas—Reduction of Salary—The City Railroads—Extending Worth-street to Chatham-square.

The Board met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mr. VARNUM in the Chair. The following resolution by Mr. M'BRIEN, was presented:

Resolved, That the Committee on Lamps and Gas be and they are hereby directed to fully investigate the subject connected with the manufacture of gas in this City for lighting purposes; that a comparison be instituted between the cost and quality of the gas furnished by the present gas companies and that supplied to other large cities; that the advisability of organizing a Department or Bureau in the City Government charged with the duty of supplying gas for public and private consumption in all parts of our City be fully and carefully considered, and that the Committee report thereon with such recommendations as, in their opinion, will be best calculated to attain the desired object—cheaper and better gas for illuminating purposes—at the earliest practicable period.

Referred to the Committee on Lamps and Gas.

A resolution was offered by Mr. O'BRIEN reducing the salary of the Corporation-Attorney to $2,000 per annum, the same to be in lieu of all fees.

A resolution increasing the salary of the Messenger to the Corporation-Attorney to $15,000 per annum, was also offered.

Both resolutions were referred to the Committee on Law.

The resolution from the other Board, directing the Register of Permits for street stands, &c., to give a statement of all permits issued up to the 1st prox., was concurred in.

A resolution directing the Corporation Counsel to commence suits against the various Railroad Companies for charging more fare than they were entitled to, was referred.

A report in favor of extending Worth-street, from Baxter-street to Chatham-square, was presented.

Mr. NORTON said it would cut through two blocks only, and would greatly relieve Broadway.

Several members being unable to see how it could relieve Broadway, Mr. NORTON explained that vehicles driving Broadway could proceed round by Chatham-square, if they chose to do so.

The report was laid over, and the Board adjourned to Thursday next.

Board of Councilmen—Baths for the People.

This Board met at 2 P. M. yesterday, Mr. GREEN in the chair.

A resolution was offered requesting the Board of Health, in view of the probable approach of the cholera, to consider the propriety of establishing public baths.

It was referred to the Committee on Police.

After the transaction of a quantity of routine business the Board adjourned to Thursday next.

The Robbery of Bonds in Madison-avenue.

The investigation of the charges made against LEWIS CLARKE and CHARLES DENNIS, for being parties to the robbery of $167,000 worth of United States bonds and securities, in Madison-avenue, was resumed yesterday, before Justice DOWLING, at the Tombs. Mr. JOHN P. MOORE, the owner of the stolen property, was examined by Mr. BEDFORD, for the prosecution, eliciting the story of the theft, the nature of the securities, the identification of the $19,450 recovered through the detective officers, and all those other details already made public at prior examinations. Mr. MOORE was cross-examined at great length by Messrs. GRAHAM and SEDGWICK, counsel for the prisoners. The witness explained his mode of keeping his books, showing his ability to identify the securities recovered. Mr. BEDFORD objected to the mode of cross examination followed by Mr. GRAHAM on the ground that he was calling for hearsay evidence; Mr. GRAHAM claimed that it was a necessity of his case to elicit by what channels Mr. MOORE had received the information bearing against the prisoners, his clients; he Mr. GRAHAM desired to go into the motive of this prosecution; he wished to show that this complaint was gotten up under false colors. He had been told that those who did get it up were afraid that they would not be able to get it through and that failing to do so their own safety was endangered; it was to enable him to sift this matter thoroughly that he adopted this mode of cross-examination, so that he might ascertain whom of these parties whose names were thus brought out, he should require to appear as witnesses in the case. He sympathized with Mr. MOORE, fully, and regretted that that gentleman should be subjected to still further annoyance in being thus cross-examined at length, but Mr. MOORE had but one desire he was sure as he had, that those who were really guilty of this robbery should be brought to punishment and no others.

The cross-examination of Mr. MOORE is to be resumed to-morrow (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock.

POLICE COURTS.

Jefferson Market—Before Justice Ledwith.

PICKPOCKET IN A CITY CAR.

Sunday evening, DAVID STEINFELD, residing at No. 216 West Thirty-eighth-street, entered a Thirty-fourth-street car, on his way home. While passing through Fourteenth-street, STEINFELD was pushed about on the platform by CHARLES YOUNG, and soon after he discovered that his pocketbook, containing $55, had been stolen. YOUNG jumped off the car and attempted to escape, but was arrested by Officer PECCAIRN, of the Fifteenth Precinct. The prisoner, who is 17, and a native of this City, was committed for trial without bail.

A HORSE CASE.

PATRICK KENNEY, of No. 459 West Thirty-second-street, lost a horse valued at $250, on the 11th of February last. On Saturday he was informed by GEORGE ROTHERMAN that he had possession of the animal, but ROTHERMAN declined to state whence he obtained it, and also refused to give it up to the owner. He was therefore arrested by Officer SMITH, of the Twentieth Precinct, and held for trial in default of $1,500 bail. The prisoner is 26 years of age, and a native of Germany.

Essex Market—Before Justice Mansfield.

THE KNIFE.

FRANK MAHADY, ex-foreman of Engine Company No. 31, of the old Fire Department, became involved in a quarrel on Sunday evening with DENNIS CUNNINGHAM in Elizabeth-street. During the dispute CUNNINGHAM stabbed his opponent in the groin with a pocket knife, inflicting a serious wound. The assailant attempted to escape, but was arrested by Officer LOCKWOOD, of the Tenth Precinct. He was held to bail in the sum of $1,500 to answer the charge.

The Tombs—Before Justice Dowling.

ATTEMPTED ARSON.

Capt. GREEN, and officers TILLEY and HOOKER, of the Third Precinct, arrested ABRAHAM JACOBI, MOSES ROSENTHAL and JACOB COHEN, on Saturday night, on suspicion of being burglars. The men were arrested in front of a store in Warren-street. When taken to the station-house they were searched, and on the person of JACOBI was found a bottle of phosphorus, and in the possession of ROSENTHAL a quantity of tinder and a phial of oxalic acid. They confessed that they intended burning out the store. Fire-Marshal BAKER was informed of the circumstance, and he entered a complaint against the prisoners before the Court yesterday morning, when they were remanded for examination.

LAW REPORTS.

The Nitro-Glycerine Case.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE.

Before Commissioner Betts.

The case of Otto Bürstenbinder, of the United States Blasting Oil Company, came up for examination, by adjournment, yesterday.

Joseph H. Prentice, the first witness called for the defence, testified that Mr. Bürstenbinder was absent from the City about five weeks, and returned about the 1st of April; he sold no oil before leaving.

Cross-examined—Oil had been shipped to the accused on several occasions, and once to the Association; part of the oil was sold to Mills; Mills left, I think, three or four weeks before the oil was shipped; I think the oil was packed by James Daveau; I am not sure; I saw the package after it was sold; it was standing in front of our office; I think in an express cart; I have no particular branch of business in connection with the oil; the oil was sold on Mr. Bürstenbinder's account; he owned it; he handed in a bill for this oil another day; J. W. Brazear keeps the books; I have had conversations with Mills about this oil; I was interested in the Mining Company for which he went out; I understood that any [illegible] authority to sell the [illegible] that Mr. Bürstenbinder [illegible] to get rid of it, [illegible] a favor in taking it; [illegible] had been mentioned [illegible] used [illegible]; I was with this [illegible] of Canal-street by Mr. Raymond's order; [illegible] to the express office to see about it being sent overland; the box was too [illegible] thought too heavy, or something, and as a favor to [illegible] I took it to the dock; Mr. Raymond went to the express office before it came down from the magazine; I supposed I knew what the contents of the box were; I don't know how many pounds were in it; I think one hundred; I don't know whether it was in glass or in tin packages; I don't know how the box was marked; I supposed according to the receipt I took down; I got to the dock, I think, about four o'clock P. M. on Saturday afternoon; when I got there the porter told me it was to late; I went in and hunted up the man who seemed to have charge, and asked him to let me leave it there, as otherwise I should have to send it up to One Hundred and Sixteenth-street, as it was late; I got the bills of lading on this receipt. (Exhibit B. "Received from Mr. O. Bürstenbinder one case of oil marked as below, W. H. Mills, Los Angelos, Cal., one case oil.") I got the bills of lading, I think, on Wednesday after; I handed them over to Mr. Daveau; Mr. Daveau has one now in the office; Mr. W. H. Raymond was formerly in partnership with Mr. Daveau; he has now gone out to Nevada to develop some mines there; Brazear & Co.'s firm, with which I am connected, does a general brokerage business; about March 21 a package was sold to a Mr. E. O. Taylor, who wanted it packed not to weigh over 100 pounds, so that he could take it in his cabin with him as baggage; I suppose the package contained twenty-five pounds of oil, with a good deal of sawdust packing; I think James Deveau sold that to Mr. Taylor; I supposed that it was going on that steamer if we got it down there in time; Daveau had only a general understanding with Col. Bürstenbinder; the magazine was ours, and the key hung in our office; we got a magazine a little after the Greenwich-street explosion; before that we kept some in our office; Col. Bürstenbinder fixed a price, I don't know at what; I saw the Colonel hand a paper to Mr. Daveau, which he said was a bill for the oil; I don't know the price of either that or the oil sold to Taylor; it was paid for; Mr. Mills left about the middle of February, and Mr. Bürstenbinder about the last of February; there was some oil sold to a man of the name, I think, of Legendre; I did not see that package; I did not see the marks on either of the boxes sent by steamer; Mr. Daveau told me he got the oil ready; I don't know who the expressman was who brought it down; I paid him on the dock, as he was leaving; Mr. Daveau made a contract for bringing it down to the office, and I gave him a dollar to take it to the dock; I heard there were two cases taken to the public store in Broadway for appraisal last week; Mills has been engaged in two or three mining companies about that office; we knew he was going to Los Angeles for opening mines three or four months before he started; a month before he started it was settled that he should try this oil; the Company then had but three or four pounds, the rest was Mr. Bürstenbinder's; I know of no directions from the Colonel as to the packing of the oil; our office is Mr. Bürstenbinder's headquarters.

To Mr. Bürstenbinder—Mr. Bürstenbinder offered the oil on hand, just before he started, to the Company; they did not want it; I don't know of any letter from him authorizing the sale of the oil; the receipt was made out in your name because it belonged to you; I think Mills left before you, but I am not positive; I don't remember hearing you offer to sell any oil to any one but the Company.

To the U. S. District Attorney—I have never been at the magazine; I don't know who took the key at that time.

James B. Daveau testified as follows: Mr. Bürstenbinder left the la.ter part of February and returned the beginning of April; before he went he offered the Company his oil; they refused because they had oils of their own on the way; I received no letter authorizing a sale of the oil from Col. Bürstenbinder; Mills left after you left; we had the receipt made out to you as it was yours; there was no mark on the box when it came to No. 26 Pine-street; you made out a bill and presented it to the Company for the oil on the 6th of April; it was in form. The Association to Mr. Bürstenbinder debtor to so much oil; I forget the quantity; you could not know that any had been sold before you came back from Lake Superior; I suppose we had to report to you the sale of the oil, and to whom we sold.

To Judge Dean: The box was put in the magazine while I was away; the box had no marks but some numbers; the oil was sold in March, after Mr. Bürstenbinder had left several days after; I made no contract with Mills; he wished us to ship him some of the oil; the established price to the public for the oil has been $2 10 per pound; Mr. Mills got it for $1 75; we supposed we had the right from Col. Bürstenbinder to sell the oil; while he was gone we sold this case to Mr. Mills, and one carboy to Mr. Taylor; Mr. Mills left some days previous to the shipment, and left directions with Mr. Raymond to send it by the overland route. When it came to No. 26 Pine-street Mr. Raymond found the freight by express would be so high that he directed us to ship it by steamer; the box had no marks on it at No. 26 Pine-street, but numbers, and I gave no direction for marking it; I drew the receipt (ex. B;) I employed a man up there to bring it down; I supposed the case contained oil; I knew the quantity from what Mr. Bürstenbinder told me; all the cases I examined contained glass carboys; one of them contained four carboys, packed very nicely in sawdust; a carboy contained about 27½ English pounds; there were twelve cases last week being discharged from ship-board; only two of those went to public store; the others were taken directly to our magazine; I have the duplicate bill of lading; Mr. Raymond left on the steamer Arizona, and is, I presume, in San Francisco; Mr. Bürstenbinder, before he left, said if any persons wanted the oil, we might sell it; I can't say he said we might sell a part of it.

Charles G. Elliott testified as follows: Took a package from the corner of One Hundred and Seventeenth-street and Third-avenue; a groceryman delivered it to him; it was not marked; he was to take it to Raymond & Co., No. 26 Pine-street; he came down Third-avenue to City Hall, and then down Broadway; he delivered the package at the office; from th.re he was requested to take it to Pier No. 42, North River; I left it on the dock; not in charge of anybody; I think it was marked at No. 26 Pine-street; when it went in it was a jar in a wicker-basket; when it came out it was boxed up; I think I saw Mr. Prentice there; I did not know the contents of the box; there was no one to receive it on the dock, and I put it there and left it.

To Mr. Bürstenbinder—It was not you who employed me.

The further examination was adjourned till Wednesday, at 12 M.

The Security Petroleum Company.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Clerke.

Francis T. Walker vs. Security Petroleum Company.—A judgment having been entered in this case against the defendants dissolving the corporation and appointing a receiver of its property without notice to the stockholders, Mr. Charles Wehle, on behalf of the Secretary and a number of stockholders, made a motion to the Court to vacate the judgment and to permit the defendants to interpose an answer. The motion was made on an affidavit of the Secretary, tending to show that the judgment was obtained by fraud on the part of the plaintiff, a brother of the Treasurer, to cover up a fraud of $60,000, as committed by the Treasurer in withholding that sum from the corporation. Affidavits were read on behalf of the plaintiff, denying the fraud and alleging that the Treasurer never had more than $30,000, and that it was all properly expended.

It was contended in support of the motion that aside from any fraud the judgment was void under the laws relating to dissolution of corporations, (III. Rev. Statutes, p. 761,) and under the decision of the General Term of the Supreme Court, in Galway vs. United States Steam Sugar Refining Company. (36 Barb. 256.) The judge intimated that he entertained the same opinion, but reserved his decision until the receiver should submit his points. For the motion, Charles Wehle, Esq.; against it, John Fowler, Jr., Esq.

By Alderman Varnum—

Resolved, (if the Board of Councilmen concur,) That the following be adopted as a joint rule of the two Boards.

No memorandum of any description except a certificate of concurrence shall be made in one Board upon any proposed act, resolution or ordinance which has passed the other Board, but all amendments shall be written on a separate paper, and certified as amendments by the Clerk of the Board, making the same on returning the proposed act, resolution or ordinance to the Board where it originated. When a proposed act, resolution or ordinance has passed both Boards the Clerk of the Board in which it originated shall cause the same to be neatly engrossed on paper of uniform size for all, to be prescribed by the Clerk of the Common Council, with sufficient margin to admit of binding, which engrossed copy shall be compared with the original papers by the clerks of the two Boards, or deputies designated for that purpose by them, and if the same is found to be a correct copy of the proposed act, resolution or ordinance as amended, if amended, they shall certify the same by adding thereto the date of final passage in each Board, over their respective signatures, when and not before the engrossed copy shall be transmitted to the Mayor for his approval. When returned with the approval of the Mayor, or when it has become an ordinance without such approval, in which case the clerks shall add their certificate to the effect that the same was not returned by the Mayor, or within the time limited by the charter, or that the same was passed over a veto, stating the date of such passage in each Board, the same shall be preserved in book form, in the office of the Clerk of the Common Council. The original papers from which the engrossment was made shall be filed as heretofore.

Which was adopted.

The President here appeared and took the chair.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, yesterday, Mr. Wade introduced a bill to repeal the act to retrocede the County of Alexandria, District of Columbia, to the State of Virginia. Referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia. Mr. Conness offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the expediency of providing against the importation, transportation, salo or manufacture of nitro-glycerine in the United States. The bill to regulate commercial and postal communication between the several States was called up by Mr. Chandler and made the special order for Friday. The House bill to provide for the better organization of the Pay Department of the Navy was taken up and passed. The bill making the annual appropriations for the Post-office Department was called up and discussed at length, the main point of interest being an amendment prohibiting the payment of salaries to any Assistant Postmasters whose appointments have not been confirmed by the Senate. No action was taken on the amendments or the bill.

In the House the resolution offered by Mr. Julian, Jan. 29, in favor of the speedy trial of Jeffer on Davis, was taken up, and, after a brief debate, went over until Monday. A report was received from the Judiciary Committee adverse to the proposition of the President to modify the test oath. Mr. Washburn reported a joint resolution authorizing the President to carry into effect all needed quarantine regulations to guard against the introduction of cholera. The Army Bill was next taken up and debated. Mr. Niblack moved to postpone further consideration of the bill to the first Monday in December next. The motion was not seconded. A message was received from the President conveying information relative to the evacuation of Mexico by the French troops.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Fenian operations have taken a novel aspect at Oswego. Several boxes of a ponderous nature, and marked "machinery," having been received at that place, directed to Patrick Regan, a prominent Fenian, the Government authorities on Sunday night thought it advisable to investigate. The boxes were found to contain 140 Springfield rifles, which were accordingly transferred to the United States fort. It is ascertained that several hundred rifles had been already distributed before the detectives discovered the business. Circumstances indicate that a Fenian expedition across the lake was contemplated, in connection with other simultaneous movements along the frontier.

The great scarcity of houses in Pittsburgh, Penn., and the rapidly increasing demand for them, has caused the formation of a joint stock company for the purpose of supplying, in a measure, this great want. The gentlemen who have taken the lead in the matter propose to commence as soon as possible the erection of one hundred and seventy dwelling-houses.

Mr. William C. Peters, the well-known music publisher at Cincinnati, died suddenly on the 21st inst. The destruction by the late Opera House fire of his collection of plates, the creation of which had been the labor of his life, no doubt hastened the event. His catalogue was the most extensive in the West previous to the conflagration.

The Coroner's Jury on the inquest of the persons killed by the late explosion at San Francisco, expresses the opinion that the shipper is guilty of manslaughter and should be prosecuted. They acquit the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and Messrs. Wells, Fargo & Co., from all blame.

The Bridge mania is epidemic on the Upper Mississippi. Applications will be made to Congress—if not already filed, for bridges at Quincy, Keokuk, Burlington, Savannah, Dubuque, Prairie du Chien, Winona and Hastings.

Three thousand dollars have been subscribed by Cincinnati merchants for the relief of the suffering people of Northern Alabama. The clergymen are also taking an interest in the matter, and propose collecting funds for the purpose.

The navigation of Lake Erie was fully opened yesterday, by the disappearance of the ice from the harbor of Buffalo.

It is stated that the Secretary of the Treasury has been informed that several prominent counterfeiters, with their plates and implements, have started for England, where, it is supposed, they will circulate counterfeit Government securities.

The car used in conveying the remains of President Lincoln to their resting-place in Springfield, Ill., has been sold to the Pacific Railroad, and taken to Omaha, Nebraska.

LOCAL NEWS.

Miles O'Reilly and his brother Dennis made a furious assault, on Sunday evening, upon Patrick Donnelly, in the hallway of the tenement-house in which all three resided. During the melée Donnelly received two severe stabs in the abdomen and arm, the first of which will probably result fatally. The two brothers were arrested and committed to await the result of the wounds inflicted by them, while Donnelly was removed to Bellevue Hospital, where his ante-mortem statement was taken by Coroner Gover. The disturbance grew out of an old feud.

The Board of Aldermen met yesterday. A resolution to reduce the salary of the Corporation Attorney to $2,000 per annum was referred. At the same time a resolution was offered and referred to increase the salary of that official's messenger to $1,500 per annum. A report in favor of extending Worth-street, from Baxter-street to Chatham-square, was laid over. A resolution instructing the Committee on Lamps and Gas to report on the advisability of organizing a department or bureau for the supply of gas for public and private consumption, was referred to that Committee. Adjourned to Thursday next.

The Board of Councilmen, yesterday, adopted a resolution requesting the Board of Health, in view of the probable breaking out of the cholera in this City, to consider the propriety of establishing public baths here.

The examination in the case of Otto Burstenbinder, charged with having shipped some nitro-glycerine oil to San Francisco without marking the package containing it, was continued yesterday, before United States Commissioner Betts. The defence called witnesses to prove that Mr. Burstenbinder did not superintend the shipping of the oil in the instance referred to in this case, and that he was not present when it was shipped; also, that the Company selling the oil were in the habit of using all ordinary precautions against danger in the stowing and handling of the oil.

A number of Chicago capitalists, backed by several of the great Western Railways, have purchased lands at Bergen Flats, and are to erect thereon, before the 15th of July next, extensive abattoirs on the Parisian plan. They will unload live animals directly from the cars into their slaughter-houses, and prepare them on the spot for sale to dealers in meat in New-York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Hoboken and Newark. This scheme effectually disposes of the proposed abattoirs on the East River flats between Yorkville and Harlem.

At the initial meeting of the First American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held at Clinton Hall last evening, Mayor Hoffman in the chair, and Major-Gens. Robert Anderson and Daniel Butterfield, and Messrs. Alexander T. Stewart, Marshall O. Roberts, Thomas C. Acton, William H. Webb, James Leonard, Moses Taylor, John Van Buren and others present, Mr. Henry Berg was elected President, William McMurray, Treasurer, and Mr. W. Coventry H. Waddell, Secretary. Subsequent to the adjournment subscriptions were made to the amount of $850.

Dr. Bissell's report, from the cholera ship yesterday morning, shows that on Sunday ten deaths occurred, and that twenty new cholera cases had been received on board the Falcon from the Virginia. There were, at last dates, seventy-three cases of cholera on board the Falcon. The number of cholera deaths on the Virginia, from the 12th inst. to the evening of the 22d, is sixty-one. At the meeting of the Board of Health, this afternoon, Dr. Harris will present a detailed report.

About two hundred persons gathered in the large hall of the Cooper Institute building, last evening, the occasion being the grand concert and bazaar for the benefit of the orphans under the charge of the Right Revee rnd Bishop Lynch, of Charleston. It being clear that, the weather being unpropitious, a larger attendance could not be expected, tickets were returned to the purchasers, and the concert was postponed to Monday evening next.

Policemen who are anxious to learn the fate of the bill increasing their pay may regard the advance as lost if the Governor does not affix his signature before the 1st proximo. The first clause of the bill provides that the salaries shall be raised on and after the first day of May next, and if signed after Tuesday next, the law will be inoperative until May 1, 1867.

The General Term of the Supreme Court, which has been in session for the last three weeks, has adjourned to Saturday, May 5, at 11 A. M., when the members of that Court will meet for the purpose of rendering decisions. Several very important cases have been argued the present month.

Abraham Jacobi, Moses Rosenthal and Jacob Cohn were yesterday arraigned before Justice Dowling on a charge of attempt at arson, preferred against them by Fire Marshal Baker, when they were held for examination.

Frank Mahady and Dennis Cunningham quarreled in Elizabeth-street on Sunday night, when Cunningham stabbed his opponent in the thigh with a pocket knife, inflicting a dangerous wound. He was held for trial by Justice Mansfield.

Col. Bertram, Inspector of Excise, will be ready to deliver blank applications for license at noon to-day. The blanks may be found at the police stations throughout the Metropolitan District, excluding the County of Westchester, to-morrow morning.

Capt. Augustus Bowman, of the barge Saranac, fell overboard last night, and was drowned, at Pier No. 47 North River.

Money was cheap and abundant in Wall-street yesterday. There was a further rise in Government Funds, and a very active upward movement in the Railways. Gold left off weak; Exchange steady.

The General Markets were quite dull yesterday. Breadstuffs were cheaper. Other articles were depressed. The freight engagements were limited.

The prices of beef are again on the decline. The arrivals for the week thus far are heavy. Trade is dull. Even the best beeves sell $10@$15 per head less than they did last week, or about 1c. ℔ lb. less, net. There is a much smaller number of poor cattle than usual; and taking the entire lot together, the receipts are superior to the cattle sold last week. The transactions between milch cow dealers are moderate, the demand less active and sales slow. Good calves are in fair request, at remunerating prices, while those of a second rate, and poor ones, sell at low figures. The trade in sheep is not very active; and therefore, the arrivals for the week are light. Dealers state that sheep are about half a cent ℔ lb. less than the same quality of sheep sold for last week. Prices for live hogs are again on the decline, transactions moderate, demand limited, and the arrivals, thus far comparatively light.

The Fenian Swindle.—The rank and file of the Fenian army will have learned for themselves by this time that, with the exception of a little schooner, (promptly seized,) and a few muskets here and there, (incontinently captured,) the army and navy of the Brotherhood exists but in name. There are many well-to-do individuals who could afford the outlay, and who, in fact, incurred it for the sake of popularity among their fellow countrymen, knowing all the time that no other return would ever be realized.

But there are many others, poorer far, whose money thus extracted was from hard earned savings, and to accumulate which they had denied themselves many comforts. We were told of laboring people who scraped together their ten or twenty dollars, feeling certain that the handsome sheet of paper which they received was to be repaid with interest, and who believed that the six months after the establishment of the Emerald Republic meant six months from the day of their subscriptions. These poor people now want their money back, no doubt. A large proportion of them are said, with what truth we know not, to have been poor servant girls. What number of them would now exchange their "bond" for a bonnet suitable to the season may be guessed—but the bonds are not saleable here or elsewhere, nor ever will be.

We said some time ago that the wiser class of Irishmen in this City and elsewhere ought to have come forward and used their influence against this cruel and palpable imposture. There may have been good reason for their reticence, nay there may have been two reasons. There is a large class of Irish Americans among us whose position commands respect, and whose character is beyond reproach. They have viewed the Fenian scheme with regret, as compromising their countrymen in the eyes of law-abiding people. They were not anxious to appear in connection with it, even as hostile critics. And they may have thought further, that when the whole affair collapsed, as they knew it would, the lesson might be useful.

The sooner any emigrant followed their example of identifying himself with American institutions—became a citizen in all sincerity, which the Fenians are not—the better for them. The United States invites, and has room for emigration from any quarter of Europe, but if it comes she claims the hands and hearts it brings for her own service. The Republic of America is that whose flag they must defend, and the dream of arraying themselves under any other must be forgotten. The wealthy Irish Americans have realized this, and were, perhaps, willing that others should learn it, even though by a little sharpness of teaching.

Tennessee in Congress.

We had a fine illustration yesterday of the style in which Congress has abdicated its constitutional functions in regard to the admission of its members. It is now six or eight weeks since Mr. Bingham, on behalf of the Reconstruction Committee, reported a resolution providing for the admission of Tennessee, into the Union. He has been called on two or three times to call it up for consideration, and has half promised every time to do so "soon"—but has never done it. When the matter was pressed upon Congress at the outset of the session, it was urged that information was wanted—that the Committee was taking testimony as to the fitness of Tennessee for readmission, and that nothing could be done until this was closed. Yet nearly two months have elapsed since the testimony was reported, printed, and laid before Congress and the country, and still not the slightest disposition is manifested by the Committee or by Congress to give the matter any attention.

Mr. Latham, a Union member from West Virginia, yesterday offered some resolutions for the action of Congress upon this subject. They were promptly ruled out of order by the Speaker! The whole matter was in the hands of the Committee on Reconstruction, and it was out of order for the House to attempt to do or say anything about it. When the Committee sees fit to call the subject up, it has a right to do so; until then Congress is powerless.

Tennessee has had a State Government, regularly elected by the loyal people, under a a Constitution republican in form, with Courts duly organized and in full operation, for the last two years. Her people have sent, as their representatives to Congress, as loyal, true-hearted and trustworthy men as live on the face of the earth—able and ready to take the test-oath—men who have periled life and everything dear to them for the salvation of the Union, and who represent constituencies equally loyal and well-disposed. Every one of these facts is clearly established by the testimony taken by the Reconstruction Committee; and every witness summoned by that committee, without a solitary exception, testified in the most direct and emphatic terms that the admission of these loyal members would have the best possible effect in developing and strengthening the loyal sentiment of Tennessee and every other Southern State. Yet the Reconstruction Committee will neither do anything, nor suffer Congress to do anything, toward bringing about this most desirable result.

How much longer is this state of things to be continued? What possible good purpose does it serve?

The President and Congress.

The Washington correspondent of the Utica Herald says that President Johnson is evidently determined to submit to the people the question of restoration, and adds:

> "He has no hesitation in his policy, but the Republicans in Congress, for the most part, are reticent, and do not fight back. Usually in a contest between principles or powers, that which is most active wins. Congress should present its plan to the people at once, and make the terms as fair as can be with safety. It will find that the terms will not be accepted so long as the President sides with the South. If the Republicans can carry the next Congress, the rebellious States may conclude that the President is powerless, and that their best way is to make terms with that body rather than with the President."

This advice is good. Congress should "present its plan of restoration to the people at once." Thus far it has done nothing but denounce the policy pursued by the President. It assumes that the Union is destroyed, and refuses to take any practical steps for its restoration. The President assumes that the attempt to destroy it failed, and that the Union is still unbroken and the supremacy of the Constitution unimpaired. He holds, therefore, that the Government ordained by the Constitution for every section, every State and every district in the Union, should again be put into active practical operation.

Against this Congress has been content thus far to protest. It has brought forward no plan of Restoration or Reconstruction. Although at the outset of the session it raised a Joint Committee of Fifteen for the very purpose of devising and reporting such a plan, not a single practical step toward it has yet been taken. This inaction cannot continue indefinitely. The people are looking to Congress for positive measures. They will not be content with mere resistance to the practical policy inaugurated and thus far carried into successful operation by the President. Nor will they submit to the practical destruction of the Union, which they have sacrificed so much blood and treasure to save.

Let the Reconstruction Committee submit its report. Let it tell Congress and the country how it proposes to reconstruct the Union. If it believes the States out of the Union, or if it believes them in, but not entitled to representation, let it say so. If it demands universal negro suffrage as the price of readmission, let it put that demand before the people and submit it to their decision. A majority of the committee, we do not doubt, is for insisting upon that condition. The strongest men among them—Stevens, Boutwell, Bingham, Wilson, Washburne—are known to be in favor of it, and to resist and oppose anything and everything else. Why then do they not act accordingly? If they cannot get a unanimous report in favor of their views, let them report the sentiments and opinions of the majority. The country will then understand precisely the issue it has to decide.

Thus far everything indicates that the Committee and Congress have aimed solely to prevent anything being done to restore peace and harmony to the Union. It looks as if they were determined to keep the Southern States out indefinitely, and at all hazards. The Utica Herald is quite right in thinking that if this course is persisted in, the President's policy will receive the sanction of the people. The only way in which it can possibly be defeated is by presenting some better plan for the consideration of the country. Let Congress follow this advice; let it present its plan at once, and make it "as fair as can be with safety."

Mexico—and our Relations with France.

The latest correspondence that has passed between the State Department and the Minister of France on the subject of withdrawing the Emperor's troops from Mexico, is published in other columns of the Times this morning. It shows the excellent results of firm and yet friendly representations from our Government. Temperance combined with frankness on our side has been met by friendly, conciliatory and satisfactory declarations on the part of the Government of His Imperial Majesty. Avoiding even the appearance of threats, the Secretary of State receives a fair response to an appeal founded in reason and justified by considerations of national honor and national safety. It was not, from the first mention of an intervention in Mexican affairs five years ago, open to us to question the right of any independent power to seek redress for grievances suffered at the hands of the Mexican Government of that day. And our protests against prolonged intervention have solely had reference to the imminent peril of making such intervention subservient to the overthrow of republican institutions in territory contiguous to our own, and among a people with whom we are disposed to cultivate the most friendly relations.

There appears to be no good reason to doubt that what the Minister of France declares to be the purpose of his Imperial master will be carried out in good faith. Within a period of less than eighteen months from this date the last detachment of French troops will be withdrawn from the soil of Mexico.

We have also authentic intelligence that no European Power will hereafter be permitted to interfere with the domestic institutions of Mexico.

The Record of the Late Legislature.

Probably no Legislature ever met in Albany which passed more useful laws, or which gave us so little injudicious legislation, as the one which has now just come to an end. When our Democratic opponents are seeking to bring to light the sins and errors of Republican rule over the great State of New-York, it is but just that they should mention the good accomplished by this body in the year 1866—a Legislature so strongly Union and Republican that the Democrats were hardly considered in weighing the chances of any measure, but only the different wings of the dommant party.

The Legislatures of 1865 and '66 have, first of all, conferred upon New-York another of those blessings which all true Democrats make it a rule to rail at, but which they all enjoy—a new "commission," a Health Board. This year begins the new reformed sanitary administration of New-York, managed by energetic and conscientious men, based on scientific principles, and destined to save thousands of human lives and add to the comfort of us all.

No words can estimate the gain to the City, during a pestilence, in having such a Board of Health as our present one, as compared with administrations like those which have preceded it. New-York is already cleaner and more agreeable as a place of residence for its workings, and all the crowd of miserable and corrupt officials who have thus far fed on their neglect of the sanitary administration they pretended to enforce, are dismissed. Order, and science and character are now to control our health government. With the cholera here, every citizen will have cause to thank Providence that the public health is in such charge.

The Legislature has also passed the Excise Bill, an act which one of the Police Commissioners says "is equal in itself to a new force of three hundred policemen," in preserving public order. This wise measure, without prohibiting the liquor traffic, puts it under the most careful and judicious control. Under it the desperate haunts of crime and misery which now disgrace and curse the City can be broken up, and license be givun to a more decent class of men. Open and disgusting drunkenness will not be permitted; liquor cannot be dealt out to notorious drunkards or to minors or children. If wife complain of husband, or husband of wife, or children of parents, that a certain shop supplies them with intoxicating drink, this must be at once stopped, or the license will be withdrawn. Sales will not be permitted after midnight or on Sunday. The additional income alone from this measure to the City will be several hundred thousand dollars. It will, without doubt, check a prodigious amount of drunkenness, lessen crime, drive away pauperism, and convey blessings inestimable to this City. This, again, is a gift of this Republican Legislature.

Still more, we receive from this body a law which at length seems to promise protection for a class so long plucked and plundered; we mean the sailors. The old practice of permitting the "runners" of the low sailors' boarding-houses and dance saloons to enter every vessel and entice the men away to dens of vice and debauchery, where they were certain to be stripped of all their hard earnings, is to cease. The new law requires the runners to be licensed, and the boarding-house to be licensed by a respectable and responsible Board. This Board will undoubtedly only allow men of a decent moral character to be agents for these houses, and the houses themselves to be boarding-houses, not brothels or liquor saloons. With the Excise law and this law, the dens of murder in Cherry and Water streets ought to be broken up or reformed. It is possible that this act may not be sufficiently strong, and that the Excise law may be deficient in not naming the legal quorum of the Board; still they are in the right direction, and in good hands can accomplish vast results.

The Legislature have also been wise in some things which they have not done. The Eight-hour movement is not in our judgment a wise one for legislation to act upon, and our law-makers have prudently put it aside. The City railroads, the underground and the elevated road and cross-roads have been killed, on the reasonable grounds that no well-digested plan has been struck upon for relieving Broadway; and that the cross-town roads do not offer to the city sufficient compensation.

When it is considered what immense bribery was proffered against the Health and Excise Bills, and how much personal feeling was aroused in their discussion, we may well be grateful to the honesty and public spirit which finally passed them. Some things have no doubt been done by this Legislature unwisely; some things left undone, yet on the whole, its record of usefulness will equal that of any legislative body for many years in our State, and is an honor to the great party which mainly elected it.

Negro Suffrage in the District of Columbia.—The Washington correspondent of the Commercial says:

> "When Mr. Stevens and his radical friends in the House allied themselves with the Democrats there, and secured the passage of a universal suffrage bill for this District, (defeating the bill which made education a qualification,) a majority of the Senate determined, by personal conferences, to let it remain on their table. But since Mr. Johnson has told the negroes here that he is 'their best friend,' and has indirectly warned them against Messrs. Sumner, Wade and others, it has been determined upon by those Senators to pass the House bill, and to give the President an opportunity to test his friendship for the disenfranchised. If it is vetoed, it is pretty certain that it can be passed in Congress by the requisite two-thirds vote, which the ejection of Mr. Stockton secured for the majority."

We do not believe two-thirds of either House of Congress will vote for a bill establishing universal negro suffrage in the District. Indeed, we doubt if the bill would obtain as large a vote as it did before. The Radicals all voted with the Democrats against qualified suffrage, and would doubtless do so again. They are open in their declarations that they will have universal suffrage for the negroes, or nothing.

AMUSEMENTS.

German Opera.—We have had a good deal of Meyerbeer lately, and, making allowance for the many "cuts" which were rendered necessary by the early habits of our public, the works of that eminent composer have been rendered with marked dramatic and musical ability. The solos have been entrusted to competent hands. The ensembles have generally been given with effect. We mention these facts because we think that in view of them it was injudicious that Mr. Grover tempted the comparison of his version of "Les Huguenots" with that of Mr. Maretzek. In no respect will it bear the contrast. The solo singers now at the Academy, with few exceptions, are very inferior. Even these exceptions are not improvements on their Italian predecessors. The audience, to be sure, is different, and this circumstance may have induced Mr. Grover to make the venture. It was not a happy one. The singers were in poor voice, and without exception sang out of tune. Even those artists whom we have recently had occasion to praise were not free from the prevailing laxity of pitch. The best was Mr. William Formes, whose St. Bris was in some points good. It demonstrated anew that his addition to the company is most timely. There were moments, too, when Mr. Hermanns displayed the real wealth of his voice, but they were few. The chorus was not always good; more often it was the reverse. Indeed, the evidence of insufficient rehearsal was apparent, notwithstanding the energy of Mr. Neundorf, the attention of the orchestra, and the physical power of the benediction scene of the fourth act.

To-night Mr. Grover gives his only performance in Brooklyn. Rossini's "William Tell," the great and genuine success of the season, will be presented with the same orchestra, chorus and cast as at the New-York house. On Wednesday, here, "Fidelio."

Italian Opera.—Mr. Grau's forthcoming fortnight of Italian opera will commence on the 5th of May. The office for subscriptions opens to-day at the Academy.

Niblo's Garden.—There are few modern plays more interesting and meritorious than "Ingomar the Barbarian," which was revived here last evening for the purpose of exhibiting Miss Bateman's powers in the part of Parthenia. The plot is clear, the action direct, and the dialogue more than usually fluent and poetical. More than all, the story exhorts us to dutifulness and truth by exhibiting in the persons of the heroine and the hero the precious fruits of these qualities. The maiden seeks her imprisoned father in the mountain fastness of a savage tribe, and in a scene of much pathos sets him free. At first a hostage in the hands of a barbarian chief, she succeeds in prettily preaching down his stubborn heart. Ingomar sets her free, bids farewell to his unruly tribe, and follows her to Massilia, where he becomes a Greek. In a moment of peril he is invited to go out among the camps of an army composed of his former friends who surround the city, and spy into their purpose. His sturdy nature, which has bowed itself uneasily to the usages of Grecian life, resents the idea of treachery. He is banished the city, and is sadly departing, when Parthenia brings him his sword and says that she will go too. The scene is full of touching interest. That such manliness and devotion should triumph is poetic and agreeable. The barbarians break into the City. They desire to know only if Ingomar is held in bondage or under restraint, and are easily appeased by the words of their old chieftain. Ingomar's reward is Parthenia, and such wealth and honor as the local potentate can bestow on him. The story illustrates the power of woman in conquering all that is rough in human nature, and her quick perception of, and sympathy with all that is manly. The dialogue, as we have before remarked, is unusually good. The characters are clearly drawn, and the action is quick and picturesque.

Miss Bateman plays the principal rôle with a simple grace and womanly sweetness which we hardly believed she possessed. With these qualities she combines all due force that the part requires. It is, we think, her best impersonation, and should attract her admirers en masse. The general cast is not very good. The gentleman who plays the rôle of Ingomar does not sufficient by mark the quiet conquest of his rude nature—unnecessarily rude, it seemed to us. He plunges at once head over heels into love. The scene with the flowers, where Parthenia surprises his proud spirit with girlish requests, became quite alarming. In the play the character is clearly graduated, and the transition from the selfish squalor of savage life to the gallant devotion of civilization is at once interesting and probable. There was generally too much shouting on the part of the actors. The performance will bear toning down. It was, nevertheless, received with marked favor. "Ingomar" will be repeated until further notice.

Winter Garden.—Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams continue to give entire satisfaction to large audiences at this house, and without drawing upon their new repertoire, if they have one. This, indeed, were ridiculous in view of the fact we have mentioned. Two or three revivals of old and well-accepted pieces have been made during the past few days. The most important is the "Fairy Circle, or Con O'Carolan's Dream," a drama with which our readers are certainly acquainted. We notice no falling off in the representation of the two principal characters by Mr. and Mrs. Barney Williams. The gentleman is as lithe and vociferous as ever, and the lady as radiant and light-footed. Between them they keep the house in the best of humor, and thereby accomplish a benevolent and praiseworthy purpose. Mrs. Williams subsequently appears in a protean farce, sustaining, to our regret, no fewer than five different characters. Would that she could bear the weight of but one. Mr. Williams also plays with remarkable humor in the excellent farce of the "Happy Man." We take the occasion to mention that his benefit is on Friday next. Every night, however, appears to be a pretty good benefit.

Unrecognized Bodies.—We publish, officially, at the close of the regular notices of deaths, the Coroner's descriptions of bodies found dead and unknown or unclaimed. This publication is made in accordance with a new law on the subject.

Movements of Gen. Grant.

Richmond, Monday, April 23.

Gen. Grant and suite will leave for Washington via Gordonsville to-morrow morning.

THE FENIANS.

Excitement at Oswego—Seizure of Arms Intended for a Fenian Expedition.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Oswego, Monday, April 23.

This usually quiet city is to-day the theatre of a regular Fenian excitement, consequent upon the seizure last night by the United States Deputy Marshal, Stephen Reid, of about 140 Springfield rifles, which were secreted in a barn near the city, and destined for the use of the Fenians. These arms were brought here by railroad in boxes marked "machinery," and directed to Patrick Regan, a prominent Fenian.

In making the search, the Deputy Marshal was assisted by a squad of the United States regulars from Fort Ontario, and the guns are now securely stowed away in the fort. It has been ascertained that nine hundred rifles have been sent here, of which only three cases have been secured by the Deputy Marshal. Two hundred guns were distributed among the Fenians last week.

The seizure is mainly due to the exertions of a few British detectives, who have been in this city two or three weeks.

All sorts of rumors are afloat, and great excitement prevails among the Fenians, who are vowing vengeance for this interruption of their plans.

It is said that the arms were destined to be used in a Fenian expedition up the Bay of Quinte by means of sailing craft and steam tugs, having for its object the capture of Picton and Belleville, and the raising of the green flag in a situation almost impregnable by nature against assaults by land or water. The Galloro islands in Lake Ontario, which at present are inhabited only by sea-gulls, are stated to have been pitched upon as a place of rendesvous and base of supplies. Expeditions were to move simultaneously from other places on the frontier.

I give all these rumors for what they are worth, without assuming that the affair will end in anything more serious than another big scare, in which our neighbors across the lake are likely to get as much excited as the Fenians now are over the loss of their arms. PERSIMMON.

The Border Fenians at Calais—They Fire a Pistol at a Guard—Two Men Arrested.

Calais, Me., Monday, April 23.

Two supposed Fenians while crossing the bridge to St. Stephens, this afternoon, were turned back and refused passage. One of them drew a revolver and fired one shot, but without effect.

Both were arrested by the guard at the Calais end of the bridge, and afterward handed over to the civil authorities. The affair has caused considerable excitement on both sides of the river.

Fenianism Given Up—Western Reporters Going Home.

Eastport, Me., Monday, April 23.

The United States gunboat De Soto, Admiral Boggs, has arrived here.

All quiet along the lines.

All the Western reporters left on the boat for their homes.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Murders by the Apaches in Arizona—Gen. Rosecrans at San Diego—Legal Troubles of Telegraph Companies—Short Passages from New-York.

San Francisco, Friday, April 20.

Mining stocks are drooping. Ophir, $765; Imperial, $148; Belcher, $345; Yellow Jacket, $770; Chollar Potosi, $314; Legal-tenders, 79¼.

San Francisco, Sunday, April 22.

A letter from Lopez, Arizonia, dated April 13, announces that Maj. Miller, of the Fourteenth U. S. Infantry, and four men were killed while going from Fort Grant to Tucson. After the murder a company Maricopas and Pimos went in pursuit of the Apaches, killing twenty-five and capturing others.

Major-Gen. Rosecrans arrived at San Deigo March 10. The citizens gave him the freedom of the place, fired one hundred guns, and delivered an address, to which the General responded.

The motion for an injunction of the California State Telegraph Company against the United States Pacific Telegraph Company, was argued at great length before Judge Pratt yesteaday Carpenter and Haight appeared for the plaintiffs, and McAllister for the defendants. The plaintiffs claim that the recent act to the Legislature granting the latter company permission to transact business between this city, Sacramento, Marysville and Stockton, is illegal, because implying an evasion of the contract entered into between the first-named Company and the State in 1852. The defendants claim that the recent act of the Legislature granting the latter Company permission to transact business between these points is necessary to enable them to buiid the line across the continent, and that a strict construction of the law would throw obstructions in the way not contemplated by the act of 1852.

San Francisco, Monday, April 23.

The steamer Golden Age, from Panama, arrived yesterday, bringing New-York dates to April 1; also the opposition steamer America, San Juan del Sur.

The steamer California has arrived from Victoria, with $110,800 in treasure.

Judge Pratt to-day granted the application of the California State Telegraph Company for an injunction, restraining the United States Pacific Telegraph Company from doing business between San Francisco, Sacramento, Marysville and Stockton. The Judge took the ground that there was no doubt that the act of 1852 intended to give the former Company the privilege of transmitting telegrams between these points for a period of fifteen years, and it would be an act of bad faith on the part of the State to interfere with the privilege thus granted. That act of bad faith would be demoralizing in its effects, and tend to create a feeling of distrust in the acts of the Legislature and the honor of the State.

Arrived, ship Peerless, Drew, Boston.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce on the Transportation of Nitro-Glycerine—A New Line of Steamers to Colorado.

San Francisco, Saturday, April 21.

The Chamber of Commerce have adopted and telegraphed the California delegation in Congress resolutions requesting, under a suspension of the rules, the passage of a law making it a felony to ship or transport nitro-glycerine within the United States in American vessels.

The California, Oregon and Mexican Steamship Company will inaugurate a line of steamers between San Francisco and the mouth of the Colorado River on the 15th of May.

The Coroner's Jury on the inquest held on the bodies of Samuel Knight and others killed by the late explosion, found that their deaths were caused by the explosion of nitro-glycerine, contained in a wooden box, which arrived on the steamer Sacramento on the 5th inst., addressed to W. H. Mills, Los Angelos, and that no mark indicated its character. The Jury express the opinion that the shipper is guilty of manslaughter and should be prosecuted. They acquit the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and Wells, Fargo & Co. of all blame.

VIRGINIA.

The Norfolk and Portsmouth Ferry—The Light-House Bureau—The Municipal Election in Portsmouth—Arrival of the Commissioners Appointed to Visit the Southern States.

Fortress Monroe, Saturday, April 21.

The steamer James Stevens arrived here this morning from Savannah, Ga., short of coal, bound to New-York.

The steamer Ella, recently arrived from Savannah, sailed for New-York last night.

The Norfolk and Portsmouth Ferry has been unconditionally turned over to its owners, by Col. A. P. Blunt, Assistant Quartermaster, in accordance with instructions from the Quartermaster-General.

It is understood that the Light House Bureau has inaugurated measures to rebuild the light-house at Wade's Point, mouth of the Pasquotank River, and the Croaton Light, near Roanoke Island, North Carolina. A new light is proposed to be established at the mouth of North River, Congress having appropriated ten thousand dollars some time since for that purpose.

The election of municipal officers in Portsmouth, Va., about two weeks since, having resulted in no choice, by reason of the untimely and unlawful closing of the polls in one of the Wards, will be held again to-day.

Gens. J. B. Steadman and J. S. Fullerton, Commissioners appointed by the President to visit the Southern States, accompanied by Col. O. Brown, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, and other officers of the same institution, arrived here to-day from Norfolk, where they have been having interviews with the municipal officers and citizens of that city and Portsmouth. They called on Gen. Miles, commanding the District, and were furnished with conveyances to visit Hampton. An extended examination was made into the condition of the freedmen under the present working of the Freedmen's Bureau. The evidence of all accessible land owners and farmers living on this section of the Peninsula was taken, with a view of ascertaining the active practical results of the Bureau, and the prevalent opinion existing in regard to it. Gens. Steadman and Fullerton return to Norfolk this evening, and from thence intend making an extended tour along the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad. The gunboat Ascutney arrived in the harbor late this afternoon, towing a naval storeship intended for the Portsmouth Navy-yard.

WESTERN MEXICO.

Confirmation of the News of the Defeat of the French Near Mazatlan—Exactly the Opposite Claimed—Dispatches to the Maximilianist Consul at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Monday, April 23.

Passengers by the Golden Age report the recent defeat of the French near Mazatlan is fully confirmed by the arrival of a French frigate at Acapulco, which brought the further news that the Imperial forces under Jazalda, while advancing from Tepic to operate with the French, were routed by the Liberals under Corona and Rubio.

The Imperial Consul, Guillen, has received official dispatches from Mazatlan, asserting that the stories of Imperial reverses are false; that the Imperialists were victorious at Presidio, near Mazatlan, and that Lagoda defeated the Republicans at Acaponeta. Private letters and newspapers seem partially to confirm these dispatches.

FROM THE RIO GRANDE.

Military Movements—Gen. Mejia Falls into an Ambuscade—No Great Loss—Various Rumors.

New-Orleans, Monday, April 23.

Rio Grande advices of the 15th inst. state that Gen. Mejia had returned to Matamoras, leaving a portion of his forces with Gen. Jeanningro, who was charged with the operations against the Liberals. On his return, Mejia fell into an ambuscade during the night, commanded by Canales and Cortina, which he penetrated losing six killed and wounded. The Liberal loss is unknown. Mejia brought into Matamoras two hundred wagons containing $500,000 in coin. Before Mejia's arrival it was reported that Cortinas came within three miles of Matamoras and hung two conductors of the train. It was also reported that the Liberals procured eighteen pontoons, and were crossing artillery from the American to the Mexican side. The statement is proved false.

FROM ALBANY.

The Governor Does Not Sign the Central Railroad Fare Bill.

Albany, Monday, April 23.

By direction of the Governor, his Private Secretary has endorsed upon the Central Railroad Fare Bill the following: "The Governor directs me to forward this bill to the Secretary of State without his approval."

The Governor has appointed Elliott F. Shepard, Esq., of New-York City, an Aid-de-camp upon his staff.

Mr. Booth in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Monday, April 23.

Mr. Edwin Booth made his first appearance for two years in this city at the Walnut-street Theatre to-night. He was greeted with loud applause, cheers and waving of handkerchiefs. Notwithstanding the rain-storm, the theatre was never so densely crowded.

Mr. Booth performed the part of Othello. He was so overcome by the plaudits of his friends that he could not proceed for several minutes. He was called out at the end of each act and heartily saluted.

From Louisville.

Louisville, Monday, April 23.

The Court-martial met at Nashville to-day to investigate the case of Isham Henderson, but the accused was not present, and the Court adjourned until to-morrow.

Orders have been sent to the commandant of the post of Louisville to have Henderson brought to this city.

The Joyce Murders.

Boston, Monday, April 23.

The charges implicating Dodge, alias "Scratch Gravel," in the murder of the Joyce children in Roxbury, some 18 months ago, have been withdrawn, the investigation showing that he was not in Massachusetts at the time the murder was committed.

From New-Orleans.

New-Orleans, Monday, April 23.

The parishes of Baton Rouge, Iberville and Point Coupee are overflowed. It is reported that the Grand Levee at Morgansia is broken.

Shreveport Cotton Market.

Shreveport, Thursday, April 19.

Cotton is dull; foreign buyers have left; stock, 1,468 bales; receipts small; total shipments since the war, 140,000 bales.

From Galveston.

Galveston, Texas, Sunday, April 22.

Arrival of the Steamer James Adger.

The United States steamer James Adger, McDearmid, from Aspinwall on the 11th inst.; 16th inst., Cape Maise, north 35 miles signalized steamship Costa Rica, hence for Aspinwall, arrived here this morning. The following is a list of the officers of the James Adger:

Acting Volunteer Lieutenant Commander—John McDearmid; Acting Masters—O. F. Homes, G. R. Holloway; Acting Ensigns—Robt. Dinsmore, Lewis W. Smith; Acting Assistant Surgeon—John Flynn; Acting Assistant Paymaster—E. N. Whitehouse; Acting Chief Engineer—E. A. Whipple; Second Assistant Engineers—G. W. Scobery, John Powers, Henry Farmer; Third Assistant Engineers—P. J. Holmes, T. Woodruff, J. Roache, C. H. Woods; Mates—A. M. Rivers, H. P. Diarmanse, Thos. D. Hunt, E. B. Smith; Captain's Clerk—Thos. McDearmid.

Brevet Brig.-Gen. Thos. B. Van Buren.—Among the worthy officers who have been confirmed by the Senate as Brevet Brigadier-Generals we notice the name of Thomas B. Van Buren, late Colonel of the One Hundred and Second Regiment New-York Volunteers. This regiment was raised by his strong personal efforts and influence, and was one of the best equipped and disciplined in the army. It gained for itself a proud name, and was welcomed home as but few other regiments were. The Colonel remained with his regiment in the field until his health was so seriously impaired as to render him utterly unable to perform the laborious duties of his position, and then by the advice of his friends and at the command of their physicians, though greatly against his own will, he was compelled to resign. A true and patriotic soldier, he is eminently worthy of the honor thus conferred upon him.

American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The incorporators of the first American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals organized at Clinton Hall last evening. Among the gentlemen present were Mayor Hoffman, Major-Gen. Daniel Butterfield, Major-Gen. Robert Anderson, Messrs. John Van Buren, Thomas C. Acton, William H. Webb, Alexander T. Stewart, William McMurray, Marshall O. Roberts, Henry Berg, James Leonard, Lorenzo Delmonico, Moses Taylor, S. B. Ruggles, John A. Kennedy, Andrew Warner and others.

Mayor Hoffman, on taking the chair, made a brief speech, and after letters had been read from Rev. Henry W. Bellows and Messrs. Peter Cooper and Shepherd Knapp, Mr. Henry Berg was elected permanent President. Mr. Berg narrated the history of the movement which had resulted in the formation of the society, and after the election of Messrs. W. Coventry H. Waddell as Secretary and William McMurray as Treasurer, the following-named gentlemen were chosen Vice-Presidents: John T. Hoffman, Henry W. Bellows, Peter Cooper, George Bancroft, Charles P. Daly, George T. Trimble, William H. Aspinwall, Moses Taylor, Marshall O. Roberts and Alexander T. Stewart.

The following named were chosen the Executive Committee: James T. Brady, Samuel B. Ruggles, John D. Wolfe, Henry Grinnell, August Belmont, John J. Cisco, Simeon Draper, Daniel Butterfield, Frank Leslie, Thomas C. Acton, John A. Kennedy, William H. Webb, W. Coventry H. Waddell, Charles Adams and Joseph P. Beach.

Mr. William McMurray addressed the meeting briefly. Alluding to two drawings on the walls of the hall, representing New-York street barbarities to animals, he said that he had witnessed scenes in our streets which made his blood boil, and he was glad that at length a Society had been formed for the protection of the brute creation. The Corporation of New-York ought, he thought, to be indicted for the pavement in Broadway.

Mr. S. B. Ruggles called upon the Mayor to promulgate the new law, and the Mayor suggested that, since orders from the Mayor's office "amount to very little now-a-days," it might be proper for Superintendent Kennedy to make an order to the police. The Superintendent of Police was, accordingly, requested to make the new law known to the public.

After the adjournment several gentlemen subscribed $100 each for the purposes of the Society.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A TENEMENT-HOUSE BRAWL.

Man Dangerously Stabbed with a Knife—His Wounds Probably Fatal—Arrest of the Assailants—Investigation by Coroner Gover.

About 9 o'clock on Sunday evening, an affray took place in the hallway of the house No. 254 East Fourteenth-street, occupied by several families as a tenement-house, by which one of the combatants was so severely injured that his life is considered in imminent danger. It appears that the disturbance grew out of an old feud which existed between Miles O'Reilly and his brother Daniel, and Patrick Donnelly, all residing in the tenement-house where the affray took place. On Sunday evening the two brothers met Donnelly in the hallway of the premises, when they commenced a furious assault on him, knocking him down and otherwise maltreating him, ending by stabbing the prostrate man in the abdomen and arm with a knife, alleged to have been wielded by Daniel O'Reilly.

The noise created by the disturbance, and the cries of "police," soon brought Officers Fawcett and Little, of the Eighteenth Precinct, upon the scene. As they were about arresting the combatants, the wives of the brothers O'Reilly ran out of the door, shutting it after them, when they made a supplementary assault upon the policemen, with a view to secure the escape of their husbands. The women were, however, soon overpowered, and the door forced open, when Miles and Dennis O'Reilly were arrested and conveyed to the Twenty-second Police-station. Donnelly was found to be very faint from the effects of his wounds, and he was at once removed to Bellevue Hospital. On his arrival there the house physician pronounced his injuries to be of a very dangerous character.

Coroner Gover was immediately notified of the fact, and he proceeded to Bellevue Hospital, where he took the statement of the wounded man, as well as those of the officers who effected the arrest of his assailants. The following is the evidence elicited:

STATEMENT OF PATRICK DONNELLY.

At about 8:30 or 9 o'clock last night, I went down to stand a few minutes at the front door of my residence, No. 254 East Fourteenth-street, when Miles O'Reilly, who lives in the same house, on the same floor with me, came down stairs also, and, without any provocation on my part, he struck me a violent blow under the left ear; I immediately turned around to defend myself; he struck at me again and I struck him; we both clinched then and I got him down; quite a number of persons hearing the difficulty gathered around us, and some of them asked me to let him up; I said I could not, as he had me by the chin; after that we both got up, and were separated; O'Reilly's wife and some of the persons who were present then took him in a grocery store, which is kept in the lower part of the house where I live by Sylvester Jones; presently O'Reilly came out of the store again, and I thought the difficulty was all over, when he attacked me again; I tried to defend myself, when some one else struck me; I then heard a woman scream, "Oh! he has a knife;" I then felt some one stab me three times; after I was stabbed I went into a cigar store next door; I then saw an officer, and I told him I was stabbed; I was then taken to a drug store, corner of Avenue A and Fourteenth-street; the doctor there sewed up the wounds, one in the bowels and on the right breast, and one on the right arm; after that I was brought to this hospital; I cannot tell any reason why O'Reilly should stab me; we had some few words some time since: I can give no other reason; Miles O'Reilly and Daniel O'Reilly were both present during the difficulty, and it was one of them who stabbed me; I cannot say which one it was; I think it was Daniel O'Reilly.

STATEMENT OF OFFICER LITTLE.

I am an officer, attached to the Eighteenth Precinct; between eight and nine o'clock last evening I heard a difficulty in Fourteenth-street, and went with Officer Fawcett toward it; we found it was at No. 254; a large crowd had congregated there; we found that Mr. Donnelly and Mr. O'Reilly were fighting together and striking each other; we attempted to arrest both of them but were prevented by the crowd; I then went to arrest Donnelly, and he told me that he had been stabbed; I then started to arrest Miles O'Reilly, when he assaulted me with his fists and a woman struck me also; O'Reilly was so violent that before I could secure him I had to strike him with my club, and also one of the women; O'Reilly attempted to wrest my club from me, but he did not succeed; after a great struggle, Officer Fawcett and I succeeded in arresting Miles O'Reilly and also Daniel, taking them to the Station-house; Miles stated that the difficulty had resulted from an old grudge existing between the parties some six weeks past, when Donnelly struck him over the eye with a glass tumbler; after we had got the prisoners to the Station-house I returned to the place and found Donnelly dangerously cut in three places, and brought him from the drug-store to the Hospital.

STATEMENT OF OFFICER FAWCETT.

I am a Policeman attached to the Eighteenth Precinct; at about 8:45 o'clock last evening I was standing in front of the railroad depot in Fourteenth-street, when I heard some noise on the opposite side of the street; I ran over to see what it was, when I saw two men fighting; I saw Daniel O'Reilly standing in the door of house No. 254, and at that time Donnelly and Miles O'Reilly were engaged in fighting; I then saw Daniel O'Reilly strike Donnelly three times, as if he was stabbing him; I then separated Miles and Donnelly, when the latter said, "I'm stabbed;" I followed Miles into the hallway of the house, when he struck me violently in the face two or three times, as did also his wife; with Officer Little's assistance I got O'Reilly outside, when I left him in the custody of Officer Little while I went back to arrest Daniel; his wife also assaulted me; I immediately searched Daniel for a knife, as I had heard some one say he had one, but I could not find one on his person; when I arrested him I found him coming from the back part of the house, as if he had been in the yard; Officer Little and I then took the prisoners to the Station-house; when I went back I found that Officer Little had taken Donnelly to the Hospital, he having been stabbed in three places; I then procured a light and searched for the knife, but could not find it; I then arrested the wives of Daniel and Miles O'Reilly.

STATEMENT OF PATRICK MACGRATH.

I reside at No. 254 East Fourteenth-street; about 9 o'clock in the evening of the 22d of April, as I was going out of the house, I saw Officer Fawcett have hold of Daniel O'Reilly by the collar; the officer took O'Reilly away, and as I turned to go in again I saw a knife in the hallway near the door; I picked it up and kept it for about half an hour, and I then threw it in the yard in the rear of the house; I told the officer what I had done; I have not seen the knife since that time.

On the case being submitted to the Jury they rendered the following verdict:

"That Patrick Donnelly came to his wounds by a preconcerted agreement of the brothers O'Reilly, Daniel and Miles, and that the wounds were inflicted with a knife or some other sharp instrument in the hands of Daniel O'Reilly."

On this verdict, the Coroner committed Miles and Daniel O'Reilly to the Tombs to await the result of Donnelly's wounds. He also retained McGrath as a witness. The female prisoners were taken before Justice Ledwith of the Jefferson Market Police Court, on a charge of assaulting the officers. They were, however, discharged from custody.

ABATTOIRS ON BERGEN FLATS.

The Western Railroads Combined in the Enterprise.

Those highly respectable gentlemen who appeared on behalf of the residents and property owners of Harlem and Yorkville, on Friday, to remonstrate before President Schultz against the erection of abattoirs on the East River flats, between Yorkville and Harlem, will be glad to learn that a contract has been made for the building of extensive abattoirs on Bergen Flats, West of Jersey City, and that these abattoirs are so far to control the business of slaughtering animals as probably to render the construction of abattoirs near Harlem an unprofitable speculation. This will be unwelcome news for the enterprising tradesmen who have recently been paying $1,000 a lot for property under water near Ninetieth-street.

It is understood that the great Western railroads have combined in this enterprise, and taken stock to the amount of $100,000 each in the new abattoirs. The New-York Central Railroad is not included in the list of roads that have invested. The names of the managers have not been disclosed; but it is known that they are mainly merchants of Chicago, with two or three Jersey City capitalists added for convenience sake, and that their capital is very large—enormous is the word used by our informant. The lands have been purchased, and the contracts were closed yesterday for the completion of the abattoirs by the 15th of July.

Live stock is to be transported over the Western railroads, and landed directly from the cars into the abattoirs, and there the animals are to be slaughtered and prepared for sale to the wholesalers and retailers at Washington Market and elsewhere. The business is to be conducted on the Parisian plan—that is, every part of every animal that enters the abattoirs is to be made to yield a pecuniary return to the owners of the abattoirs.

The sole advantage which the Bergen flats abattoirs will enjoy over any slaughtering business which might be undertaken on the East River, is the great saving which the Bergen men will be able to make on freightage; but this alone will settle the question of locating abattoirs in the neighborhood of New-York and Brooklyn. The Bergen abattoirs are to be rendered so entirely inoffensive as to leave Jersey City no reason to complain; and the stimulus which this enterprise cannot fail to give to trade in Jersey City must more than compensate the merchants there for any annoyance which they may imagine to come from the abattoirs.

Indignant Pickpockets.

On Sunday evening a respectable citizen took the Third-avenue cars at Harlem for the City. Getting in thus early in the trip he obtained a seat. The car became densely crowded, both front and rear platforms being crammed. The gentleman alluded to asked the conductor to let him off at Broome-street. The car was stopped there for that purpose, and pushing his way from the seat to the platform the gentleman endeavored to get off the car, but found his way obstructed by two men on the step, who refused to give way. Trying to pass between these he found that one of them was endeavoring to withdraw his pocket-book from the pocket of his pantaloons. The book was large and the pocket small and the thief failed.

The thief then made his escape, but his accomplice even less satisfied with the result, just as the old gentleman was stepping from the car to the street, pushed him with all his energy from behind, precipitating him on his face upon the road, bruising him severely in several parts of his person. By the time that the gentlemen thus brutally used had recovered himself, the car was out of sight—no notice whatever having been taken of the occurrence by the driver, although he must have seen it all. It is thus seen to what extremes these no-longer merely light-fingered gentry are prepared to go in pursuit of their prey, and the public owe their gratitude to the magistrates who begin to realize the terrorism awakened by these audacious scoundrels, and who give them the full benefit of the law when they are brought before them.

ASIATIC CHOLERA.

Reports from Drs. Bissell and Harris—Seventy-three Cases on Sunday.

Dr. Swinburne came up to the City yesterday, with an official report from Dr. Bissell, Deputy Health Officer, now stationed on board the hospital ship Falcon, at the Lower Quarantine anchorage. The report is as follows:

HOSPITAL SHIP FALCON, April 22, 1866.

Since my last report there have been ten deaths on board the hospital ship from cholera, and twenty new cases have been received from the Virginia. There have been two deaths on board the England—one old lady and one infant—neither of them from cholera.

There are seventy-three cases of cholera now on the hospital ship.

D. H. BISSELL,
Deputy Health Officer.

The reports on the Quarantine Commissioners' books show that from the 12th to the 20th of April, inclusive, forty-seven deaths from cholera occurred on board the Virginia; on the 21st, four, and on the 22d, ten, making in all, down to Sunday night, sixty-one deaths. On the 20th there were thirty-four cases in hospital; on the 21st, sixty-seven, and on the 22d, seventy-three.

Dr. Harris will present a report to the Board of Health, this afternoon, detailing his investigations on board the steamship Virginia. Superintendent Dalton will also submit a report. These gentlemen instituted careful inquiry and investigation, but were unable to find a solitary passenger that had come from a town wherein a single case of cholera had been known. The passengers were healthy at the time of embarkation, on the 5th, at Queenstown, and it was not until the 12th, when the air of the orlop deck of the Virginia had been poisoned, that cholera manifested itself—first in that part of the ship and then extending elsewhere.

It is said by gentlemen who are conversant with the subject, that the hospital-ship Falcon has been for months ready to go to the assistance of any infected ship at an hour's notice; but that instead of sending her immediately to the Virginia on the arrival of that vessel, somebody delayed eighteen hours, leaving the sufferers all that time to be treated by a youthful physician, who had already been worn almost to exhaustion.

The office of the Health Officer at Quarantine is overrun by the friends of passengers on board the cholera steamer. It is impossible to obtain satisfactory information in this way. It may be as well, therefore, for the public to understand that neither the England nor the Virginia, nor any other vessel containing passengers from Europe at the present time is to be allowed to come up the harbor until the proper authorities are assured that it will be safe to grant permission.

Metropolitan Board of Health.

The Police Captains' reports of the condition of the streets in their respective Precincts, show that the street-cleaning contractors have generally undertaken to sweep the City. In the Fourth, Seventh, Tenth and Twelfth Wards there are many complaints of non-removal of garbage. Catharine and Front streets, Charles-lane, part of Fourth-street, Leroy, Morton, Barrow, and several other streets have not been swept. The Captains of the Nineteenth and Twenty-ninth Precincts made no report, their officers having been on duty on the railroads during the strike.

The near approach of cholera has spurred our citizens up to cleaning their premises, and the result has been an avalanche of complaints at Col. Bartram's office, in the basement of the Police building. The orthography of the complaint against Mr. Thomas F. De Voe's slaughter-house, at No. 82 West Nineteenth-street, is defective in representing that the blood and "awful" from the slaughter-house run into the basement of the dwelling at No. 80 West Nineteenth-street. An official employed in the Mayor's office, who is about to move into the neighborhood of which he complains, desires Messrs. Schultz & Co. to prohibit the throwing of garbage into an open lot near Third-avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-seventh-street. Citizens of Carmansville demand that ashes and garbage shall be removed from their village. A citizen complains of the rags which are used by the six hundred workmen of the Novelty Works.

Mr. E. G. Pomeroy, having applied Mrs. Saul's patent cover to a fat-boiling kettle at Messrs. H. Wertheimer & Co's establishment, Thirty-eighth-street, near Eleventh-avenue, which is now in successful operation, consuming smoke and all vapors and emitting no effluvia whatever, desires the Board to visit the place.

Capt. Bower G. Lord reports two cases of small-pox at No. 196 Mott-street.

More Nitro-Glycerine Coming to the City—Action of the Mayor.

Yesterday morning the Fire Marshal received the following note from Mayor Hoffman:

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
NEW-YORK, April 23, 1866.

Fire Marshal Baker:

I understand that a vessel is expected daily at this port with a quantity of nitro-glycerine on board. You will please (with the concurrence and aid of the Custom-house authorities) see that the same is properly stored and guarded immediately upon its arrival.

JOHN T. HOFFMAN, Mayor.

In obedience to this request, Fire Marshal Baker has taken all necessary precautions to insure the safe storage of any nitro-glycerine that may arrive at this port. He will take all possible care that none of this dangerous compound is stored in any of our public stores.

Shakespearian Dinner at the Century Club.

The members of the "Century Club" held held their Shakespearian Dinner last evening, at their rooms in Fifteenth-street, being the second centennial of the immortal bard. The members of the Club were present in force.

The first regular toast was, as a matter of course, "Shakespeare;" responded to by Mr. George Bancroft.

The second, "The Commentators;" responded to by Judge Daly.

The third, "The Century;" responded to by Mr. Wm. C. Bryant.

The fourth, "The Drama;" responded to by Dr. Francis Lieber.

The concluding toast was, "Woman;" responded to by Mr. George W. Curtis.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

Military Parades.—In accordance with General Orders No. 7, issued from headquarters of the Thirty-seventh Regiment, the command will parade in full fatigue, white gloves and knapsacks, on Thursday, 26th inst., at 3 o'clock P. M. Company roll calls fifteen minutes before hour of formation. The field and staff will parade mounted. Non-commissioned staff, band and drum corps, will report to the Adjutant at 2:30 P. M. Members unprovided with knapsacks may obtain them for the occasion from Quartermaster Lockwood, at the Armory, on day of parade. The regiment will be reviewed by His Honor the Mayor and Common Council, at 4 o'clock P. M., at the City Hall.... The parade of the Seventy-first Regiment, ordered to take place yesterday, has also been postponed until Thursday, on account of the unpropitious weather yesterday afternoon.

Elder Knapp's Farewell Sermon.—Elder Knapp, the venerable revival preacher, whose career dates back for forty years, and whose itinerant ministry has been eminently successful among all denominations of Evangelical Christians, preached his farewell sermon at the Laight-street Baptist Church, last evening, before a large and deeply interested congregation. A number of the City ministers were in the pulpit, and many of them made brief addresses, in which the labors of Elder Knapp were referred to.

Gen. Anthon on the Present Crisis.—Gen. William H. Anthon delivered a lecture before the Charles S. Spencer Union Association, at Washington Hall, Eighth-avenue, last evening. His subject was "The Present Political Crisis." He took the ground that the Southern States recently in rebellion had no right to representation in Congress until certain prerequisites had been considered and deliberated on.

Fire in East Nineteenth-street.—At 8:30 o'clock last evening a fire broke out in the iron foundry of McKinly & Smack, in Nineteenth-street, near Avenue B, the flames originating from some dry wood igniting from the heat of the furnace. Damage to building, $700. Loss on fixtures, $600. Both losses are covered by insurance.

Excise Blanks.—Col. Bartram, Inspector of Excise, will have a supply of blank applications for license at noon to-day, at the Complaint Office, No. 301 Mott-street. The blanks are to be distributed among the Metropolitan Police, and on Wednesday morning they may be found at the several police stations.

Honorably Discharged.—Mr. Hermann Mann, dealer in boots and shoes in the Third-avenue, who was wrongfully charged with having received goods stolen from Mr. Grant, of Trenton, has been honorably discharged.

The Harbor Police.—In an article on the Harbor Police, published yesterday, Capt. Hartt's first name was inadvertently given as Peter instead of Jedediah W. The Captain was formerly of the Seventeenth Precinct, and recently of the Nineteenth Precinct.

Fell Overboard.—About dusk yesterday Capt. Augustus Bowman, of the barge Saranac, lying at Pier No. 47 North River, fell overboard and was drowned before assistance could reach him. The body was not recovered.

Battle of New-Orleans.—To-day is the fourth anniversary of the passing of the forts below New-Orleans by Admiral Farragut's fleet.

Beastliness.

NEW-YORK, Monday, April 23, 1866.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Frequently, as I see instances of hoggishness alluded to in the daily papers, I can record one, more outrageous than anything since the days of vitriol throwing. A few days since my wife and sister came down town in a Wall-street stage. Passing Front-street, a young gentleman of eighteen or so, very well dressed, jumped on the step, collected a good mouthful of tobacco-juice and phlegm, and spit it all on my wife's silk dress and gloves, then got off, walked to the sidewalk, and turned to see the effect of his little joke. Of course there were no men in the stage. I can only imagine that he wished to show practically the utter scorn and contempt which most New-York young gentlemen of his age entertain for the "wimmen," and that he has before now entertained all his acquaintances with the above specimen of his manliness.

A Beautiful Complexion.

L'EMAIL DE PARIS DE JARED.

This secret of beautifying the skin being known only to Jules Jared, he honorably states that it differs from all other skin preparations, being perfectly innocent, producing the most brilliant complexion, and giving a soft, even texture to the skin, like that of an infant, without presenting the least meretricious appearance.

It cleanses the pores from those unsightly black worm specks and small particles which give coarseness to the complexion, and by cleansing produces a healthful glow. It effaces, after a few weeks, most happily, all scars and roughness, and is especially successful in eradicating the marks left by small-pox. So distinguished is it from any paint, powder or other skin preparation ever offered, that ladies like Mme. Vonisi, Mlle. Vestvali, Miss Maggie Mitchell, Mrs. Emma Waller and others, have unhesitatingly indorsed its efficacy and advised its use. The agent is L. ISABEAU, No. 822 Broadway.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

At a meeting of the Class of 1862, held April 16, 1866, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, An All-wise Providence has removed from earth our friend and late fellow-student, JOHN A. VANDERPOEL, A. M., LL.B., be it

Resolved, That while, with deepest personal sorrow at the loss of his earthly fellowship with us, we have learned of the departure of one whose high intellectual endowments, whose honesty and nobleness of purpose, whose purity of life, whose whole-souled allegiance to duty, and whose tender consideration of others so eminently characterized him, and endeared him to all who knew him, we will ever cherish the memory of our departed brother, as a student so proficient and distinguished, as a friend so true and generous, as a man so exemplary and noble, while we rest in the conviction that our late classmate now liveth among the blessed in the presence of the Redeemer, whom he so loved and trusted.

Resolved, That to the widow and family of our brother we tender our heartfelt sympathy in their great bereavement.

Resolved, That we wear the usual badge of mourning thirty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased and inserted in the journals of this City.

CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE AIR PASSAGES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY MEDICATED INHALATIONS,

BY H. P. DILLENBACK, M. D., OF BOSTON.

The decidedly curative powers of Medicated Inhalations we now regard as too well established to admit of dispute. No one can doubt that remedies, when applied directly to the seat of the disease in the lungs, must be more efficacious and certainly more curative than when introduced into the stomach. We appeal to those who are unfortunately laboring under any of the above diseases, to consider well whether they will sacrifice their health, and possibly their lives, to the old and unsuccessful routine of "drugging the stomach," when there is so great a probability that by the simple and direct process of inhaling or breathing the remedy a speedy and permanent cure may be readily effected.

We ask for the following testimonials a careful perusal, coming as they do from persons of the highest respectability:

CHRONIC CATARRH, ULCERATION OF THE THROAT AND BRONCHITIS.

(Letter from Rev. William M. Thayer.)

Dr. DILLENBACK—Dear Sir: It was eight years ago that I placed myself under your care for treatment by Inhalation. A throat and lung difficulty had prostrated me so that I had not been able to preach more than half the time for three years. A bad cough, emaciation, great debility, ulceration of the throat, together with Catarrh and weak lungs, rendered my recovery doubtful. I consulted several eminent physicians in Boston and in New-York, some of whom had little hope of my restoration, and none of them did me any good.

I grew worse and worse. But your treatment by inhalation relieved me at once, and a few months under your care completely restored me. Several years have elapsed since the disease of my throat was removed, and I have had no return of it, save in two or three instances, when suffering from a severe cold. In all such cases, however, Inhalation has been my remedy. I have known several cases which you have treated more remarkable than my own. I have a brother who was for months under the care of an eminent physician in New-York, and subsequently under the care of one no less eminent in Boston, and yet he continued to grow worse and worse.

But your treatment by Inhalation restored him to health and saved him, as we think, from a premature death. I am free to say that I have no confidence in any other mode of treating throat or lung difficulties, with their attendant diseases. If Inhalation will not save the patient then he cannot be saved. Experience and observation impel me to the conclusion. It is not quackery, but true medical science, based upon reason and common sense. He who tries to cure me and don't is the quack. The physician who restores me by an intelligent and systematic application of remedies has science in his treatment.

WM. M. THAYER.

Franklin, Mass., March 4, 1866.

CONSUMPTION WITH ULCERATION OF THE LUNGS.

WINCHESTER, Mass., April 25, 1864.

Dr. DILLENBACK—Dear Sir: My case was one which may justly be called hereditary Consumption, having lost my father, mother, three brothers and a sister with that disease.

For several years the premonitory symptoms had been slowly developing themselves, such as a hacking cough, tickling in the throat, constant expectoration of mucous, followed by general debility, loss of flesh, diminished appetite and night sweats. I suffered much from pains in my side and under my shoulder blade. I expectorated daily a large amount of thick, heavy and offensive matter. I could scarcely walk without reeling to and fro, and any attempt to stand up erect was attended with severe pain. My own opinion, as well as that of others, was that ulceration had already made considerable progress in my lungs. At this time, having seen some of your letters on Consumption published in the Boston Journal, I became fully satisfied that Inhalation was the only correct principle; that there was more hope of effecting a cure by these means, since the remedies were applied directly to the seat of the disease—in the lungs instead of the stomach, where they do no good. I was under your care about two months, and so rapidly did I improve, at the end of that time I discontinued your treatment for several months, but finding some of the old symptoms still lurking about me, I applied to you again, and in less than a month I was perfectly cured, and have remained so until the present time, which is now about two years since. Hoping you may long live to receive the blessings, and be a blessing, to the afflicted,

I remain, gratefully yours,

H. K. STANTON.

CHRONIC CATARRH WITH FOLLICULAR DISEASE OF THE THROAT.

WESTFORD, Mass., March 8, 1866.

Dr. H. P. Dillenback, No. 3 Bullfinch-st., Boston:

DEAR SIR: I am prompted by a desire to benefit others to give my opinion of your method of treating diseases of the throat and lungs. Having myself suffered much from inflammation of the throat and Catarrh, and having found great relief by the application of your remedies, I am prepared to testify to something which I do know.

I regard your mode of dealing with such disease as the best now practiced. It is common sense grappling with the foe in the stronghold, and applying such means of extermination as promise the most speedy success. In my own case, and in others which I have known, the treatment has been attended with the most positive and delightful results. There is nothing that so quickly allays and effectually relieves bronchial irritation as your Medicated Lung Vapor. More than six years ago I first consulted you. The inflammation of the throat and catarrh in my head were then so bad that my duty as a public speaker was often discharged with great difficulty and embarrassment. The faithful use of your remedies soon convinced me that they are just the thing for all forms of bronchial and pulmonary disease.

Cordially yours,

EDWIN R. HODGMAN,
Acting Pastor of the Evangelical Congregational Church.

ULCERATION OF THE THROAT AND BRONCHITIS.

WESTBORO', Mass., Feb. 15, 1864.

DR. H. P. DILLENBACK—Dear Sir: You recollect when I called to consult you I was suffering severely from Chronic Catarrh, Sore Throat, and a very troublesome Cough. They had existed so long, and progressed so far, that I was somewhat discouraged in regard to my condition. But I soon found my difficulties yielding to your method of treatment, and by a faithful and persevering application of your remedies I am now as free from those distressing troubles as I ever was. I write this note to thank you for your kind and faithful attention to my case, as well as to inform you of my present condition. May the same happy success attend your labors in behalf of others suffering from similar diseases.

Yours, most truly, L. H. SHELDON,
Pastor Congregational Church, Westboro'.

TUBERCULAR DISEASE WITH SEVERE HEMORRHAGE OF THE LUNGS.

MILTON, Mass., March 9, 1865.

DR. H. P. DILLENBACK:—Dear Sir: In the month of February, 1862, I was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs, which continued more or less for twenty-four hours. For two weeks I was very weak, so that it was with difficulty that I could speak aloud. I recovered and returned to my business. In the month of June, 1863, I was attacked in the same manner, which was followed by a third attack about two months later. My strength was now nearly gone. I had a violent cough, poor appetite, accompanied with headache and fever at night. At this time, through the kindness of a friend, who recommended your mode of treatment, I placed myself under your care, and under your direction commenced the process of Inhaling, together with such other means as were calculated to improve the general condition of my system. At the end of the first week my symptoms had perceptibly improved, and I was once more inspired with confidence and hope. And at the end of the first month I could still report progress; my cough, as well as my general health and strength, being much better. And after a faithful and persevering trial of your remedies for about three months, my cough had wholly disappeared, and my usual degree of health and strength was completely restored. I then discontinued your treatment, but none of my former symptoms of ill health have returned.

The result, I am free to say, has been everything I could wish—much more than I could reasonably expect. And under a kind Providence I can attribute my restoration to health alone to your peculiar mode of treatment.

I am, Sir, with gratitude and respect,
Your most obedient servant,
STILLMAN A. TUCKER.

CONSUMPTION WITH ULCERATION AND A CAVITY IN THE RIGHT LUNG.

LOWELL, Feb. 26, 1864.

DR. DILLENBACK: Dear Sir—Having suffered from a disease of the lungs for a number of years, and having applied to several eminent physicians without relief, I now write to acknowledge the benefit I have derived from your system of treatment by Inhalation. When I first called upon you my cough was very severe. I expectorated daily large quantities of a thick greenish-yellow colored matter, that would at times almost suffocate me. My lungs were so sore that I could only lie upon my back, my appetite was poor, and I found I was losing flesh and strength very fast. I requested my physician to make a careful examination of my chest, and tell me candidly the true condition of my lungs. He informed me that the right lung was badly ulcerated and a small cavity in the lung was then existing. Under these circumstances I had but little to hope for, having seen my sisters and brothers one after another pass away with the same disease. At this time your work on Medicated Inhalation fell into my hands, and I was induced to put myself under your care, being fully convinced if this did not reach the disease in my lungs nothing could. On examining my lungs your opinion differed but little from my former physician. I commenced your treatment, and by a faithful and persevering use of your remedies my cough has disappeared, my respiration is easy, my lungs are free from pain and my usual degree of health and strength has been fully restored. All of which, under a kind Providence, I owe to your treatment of my case by Inhalation.

Yours very respectfully,
MRS. H. N. WELCH, Elm-st., Lowell.

Dr. DILLENBACK'S new work on Consumption and Diseases of the Air-Passages, explaining his system of practice, is now ready.

Dr. DILLENBACK will visit New-York, and may be seen professionally at the UNION-PLACE HOTEL on THURSDAY, April 26, from 9 o'clock A. M. till 4 P. M., and EVERY THURSDAY thereafter until further notice.

THE MEDICAL BALANCE SHEET.

COST OF CURE.

Illustrated by
FACTS AND FIGURES.
READ AND COMPARE.

There are two especial points connected with the treatment of disease upon which the sick require, and have a right to expect, accurate information.

In the first place they desire to know what medicines will certainly and speedily restore them to health; and in the second place what will be the expense of a complete and radical cure.

By contrasting the moderate cost of

RADWAY'S REMEDIES

with the heavy expense involved in employing a physician, and procuring the medicines he may prescribe, it will be seen that may be saved by resorting to the three carefully prepared vegetable specifics known as RADWAY'S READY RELIEF, RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS and RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT, which comprehend within their remedial range all types of acute and chronic disease. This can be made manifest by a few illustrations based on facts. To begin with the READY RELIEF.

SEVERAL THOUSAND PER CENT.

Case 988.—Henry R. Morton, New-York City, is seized with severe vomiting and purging, accompanied by cold chills, and violent pain in the bowels. A physician is called. He treats the patient for CHOLERA MORBUS. First visit $3; cost of prescription 75 cents. Second visit, next day, $3. Change of treatment. New prescription $1. Patient still suffering and sinking fast. At this stage the READY RELIEF is suggested. One bottle 50 cents. A teaspoonful in water is given and an application made to the stomach and abdomen. Pain ceases—vomiting is stopped—discharges are checked—system recovers its tone—strength is restored. Patient perspires freely, and falls into a refreshing sleep. Cure complete.

NOW BALANCE THE ACCOUNT.

Physician's bill, $6; prescriptions (utterly useless) $1 75 .... $7 75
Bottle of Ready Relief (which effects a cure, with three-fourths of the bottle spared for other exigencies) 50
Balance in favor of READY RELIEF $7 25

Case 1,159.—Freeman L. Forsyth, Brooklyn, is attacked with Ague and Fever. Medical man called in. Charge $3 per visit. Looks in daily for a fortnight. Prescribes quinine, piperine, arsenic, morphine, &c. Prescriptions costly, averaging $1 per day. No perceptible improvement in patient. Advised to try READY RELIEF and REGULATING PILLS. Relief 50 cents per bottle, Pills 25 cents per box. Half a dozen doses of the Relief, diluted according to directions, break up the fits, and two or three doses of the Pills remove the malarious virus of the disease entirely from the system.

Post the books again:

Physician's account—14 visits at $3 each, $42; prescriptions, $10, (and no benefit) $52 00
Relief, 50 cents; Pills, 25 cents, (a portion of which effect a cure, being a surplus for future use) 75
Balance in favor of READY RELIEF $51 25

Case 2,631.—James B. Hendrick, New-York City, night attack of violent Bilious Colic. Doctor called in. Visit $3. Second visit in the morning $3. Third, in the afternoon, $3. Prescriptions $4. Patient still in agony and pulse and strength failing. At this stage the RELIEF administered, paroxysms of pain arrested, and cure perfected by the assistance of a few doses of the REGULATING PILLS, which carry off the corrupt and acrid humors that caused the attack.

Compare again:

Physician's charge, $9; Prescriptions, $4 .... $13 00
RELIEF and PILLS, (with more than a dozen doses yet on hand) 75
Balance in favor of the RELIEF $12 25

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF is a household medicine which no prudent family that understands its value will ever be without. It instantly arrests pain, and its effects as a defusive stimulant, anodyne and nervine in cholera, cholera morbus, bilious colic, spasms, fits, malarious diseases, &c., transcend those of any other preparation known. As an external application for burns, wounds, scalds, bruises, &c., it has no equal.

Pass on to

RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS.

Case 892.—W. A. Stuart, New-York City, a martyr to chronic dyspepsia, complicated with liver complaint. Physician's bill for one year's attendance, $200. Prescriptions, $100. No improvement. Appetite gone, sickness at the stomach, terrible oppression after eating, bowels irregular, complexion cadaverous, body emaciated, pain between the shoulders and in the right side, great debility, spirits depressed. In this condition patient resorts to a course of the REGULATING PILLS. After the first two doses the distressing symptoms sensibly abate, and the patient, persevering in the use of the remedy, (and adopting such rules in regard to diet, &c., as common sense suggests,) is soon perfectly well. Four boxes, 25c. each, suffice to banish every relic of the complaint.

Contrast the cost:

Medical attendance for one year, $200; medicines, $100; (of no avail) $300
Four boxes of the REGULATING PILLS, at 25c. each, (and a cure perfected) 1
Balance in favor of REGULATING PILLS $299

Case 1,236.—Marcus W. Mount, long a sufferer from liver complaint, has paid, he says, at different times, about $250 to physicians, and he thinks as much more for medicines. Is induced to try the REGULATING PILLS, with occasional doses of the RENOVATING RESOLVENT, to assist in removing from his system the effects of the mercurial treatment to which he has been subjected. Soon feels the benefit of the change. Takes, in all, five boxes of the Pills and three bottles of the Resolvent, and at the end of the course is "as well as he ever was in his life."

Glance at the account current below:

Bills for medical attendance, $250; outlay for prescriptions, $250 (so much money thrown away) $500 00
Five boxes of REGULATING PILLS, $1 25; three bottles of RESOLVENT at $1 each, $3—(disease removed) 4 25
Balance in favor of REGULATING PILLS and RESOLVENT $495 75

The REGULATING PILLS possess the alterative, anti-bilious and disenfectant properties of Mercury, without any of its pernicious attributes. They are manufactured in vacuo from concentrated vegetable extracts, and are an absolute specific for all disorders of the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys. They tone the system while relieving the bowels from viscid humors, and control the liver more readily than blue pills or any preparation of quicksilver or its salts or oxides.

And now a few words about the effects of the

RENOVATING RESOLVENT.

Case 1,369.—Zachary N. Lathrop, New-York City, a sufferer from chronic scrofula; has been long under physicians' hands; has twice had the disorder suppressed with blue pill and mercurial ointment, but only to reappear in another and more malignant form; has been repeatedly salivated, and suffers from mercurial disease complicated with the original disorder. Supposes he has paid for medical attendance and costly drugs, such as iodine, hyd. potash, corrosive sublimate, extracts of sarsaparilla, various acids, &c., over $350. Is recommended to give the RENOVATING RESOLVENT a trial. Before the first bottle is finished there is a manifest change in the appearance of the sores with which he is affected. As the medicine is continued they begin to heal, and after a course of six bottles he is a sound man. The mercury is out of his system, and the disease is not suppressed, but eradicated. Once more pure, uncontaminated blood runs in his veins, and his health and vigor are completely restored.

Strike the balance:

To medical advice and medication, (worse than useless) $350
To six bottles of RENOVATING RESOLVENT, at $1 per bottle, by which the priceless blessing of health is restored 6
Balance in favor of the RESOLVENT $344

Case 1,064.—Sergt. B. A. Cole, New-York City, a returned volunteer. Complaint, chronic rheumatism, produced by exposure during the war. Was one month "under treatment" since his discharge. Received during that time twenty visits from his physician. Visits $3 each. Cost of medicines prescribed, consisting of colchicum, gum guiac, quinine, morphine, hyoscyamus, &c.—all expensive—and various embrocations, $1 50 per day on an average. Whole amount paid for prescriptions, $45. Not the slightest change for the better produced. RENOVATING RESOLVENT, and READY RELIEF (as an external application) recommended by physicians as a dernier resort. Result immediately beneficial. Patient convalescent in three days. Within four weeks, pain, swellings, contractions and all other symptoms removed. A radical cure. Number of bottles of RESOLVENT taken, four, and half a dozen bottles of RELIEF used as an external remedy.

Look again at the comparative expense:

Physician's fees, $60; medication, $45—all to no purpose $105
Four bottles of the RESOLVENT, at $1 each, and six bottles of RELIEF, at 50 cents, (every trace of the disease eradicated) 7
Balance in favor of the RESOLVENT and RELIEF $98

RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT is the most perfect depurative, and the most powerful restorative that has ever been derived from the vegetable kingdom. It eliminates from the blood every trace of scrofulous or syphilitic virus, eradicates mercurial disease, and is the only preparation which can be depended upon for a thorough cure in tumorous, cancerous, and other consuming diseases of the fleshy fibre. In salt rheum, erysipelas, and all cutaneous eruptions, it is equally efficacious; and as its effect is not merely to suppress symptoms, but to remove their morbific causes, the cures it affects are always permanent, one bottle of it containing more of the active disinfectant and purifying principle of Sarsaparilla than is diffused through one gallon of the ordinary extracts of that root.

The above comparative view of the expense of ordinary medication and of the cost of cure through the agency of RADWAY'S REMEDIES, is not in the slightest degree overdrawn. It is founded on testimony in the possession of Dr. Radway, and accessible to all who desire to examine it. The sole object has been to ILLUSTRATE FACTS, in a familiar way, by exhibiting an between disease and the stereotyped practice on the one hand, and Dr. RADWAY'S REMEDIES on the other. If, however, the balance is several thousand per cent. in favor of the latter in an economic point of view, it is infinitely greater in a sanitary sense. As regards cost a comparison may be instituted, but not as regards remedial value. The superiority of the READY RELIEF, REGULATING PILLS and RENOVATING RESOLVENT, over all other medicines of the classes to which they belong has been made too manifest to be successfully disputed in any quarter, and is too great to admit of computation.

GOVERNMENT SALE OF THE MILITARY RAILROAD AT BRAZOS SANTIAGO, TEXAS.

QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 19, 1866.

The attention of capitalists seeking a profitable investment, is invited to this sale.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Quartermaster-General, (Division of River and Rail Transportation,) at Washington, D. C., until the first day of June next, at 12 o'clock, M., for the purchase of all the right, title and interest of the United States, in and to the United States Military Railroad from Brazos Santiago to White's Ranche, Texas.

The sale will include the entire track and sidings, buildings, water-stations, turntables, bridges, &c., the railroad materials and supplies pertaining to the road, together with the rolling-stock, cars, machinery and other equipment.

The sale will not include the title to the land, which does not belong to the United States.

This road is about ten miles in length, and extends from Brazos Santiago to White's Ranche, on the Rio Grande. From this point connection is made by steamer with Brownsville and Matamoras.

This route is the shortest and best for the immense traffic between the Gulf of Mexico and the interior of Southern Texas and Northern Mexico, and the communication by rail alone can readily be extended to Brownsville.

The road already completed saves thirty miles of difficult and tortuous navigation. Boats on the river now charge, it is stated, for freight to Brownsville, as high as $5 per barrel, and for passengers $15 each.

The road is five feet gauge, good ties, T rail, and full spiked.

More particular description of the property can be obtained at this office, or at that of the Chief Quartermaster Military Division of the Gulf, at New-Orleans.

A condition of the sale will be that transportation shall be furnished for all Government troops and supplies, whenever required, at the rates paid by Government at the time to the New-York Central Railroad.

The terms of payment accepted will be those considered the most favorable to the Government.

Ten per cent. cash, in Government funds, to be paid on acceptance of proposal.

The Government reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

Proposals should be indorsed, "Proposals for purchase of Brazos Santiago and Rio Grande Railroad," and addressed to the Division of River and Rail Transportation, Quartermaster-General's office, Washington, D. C.

By order of the Quartermaster-General,
ALEXANDER BLISS,
Brevet Colonel and A. Q. M., in charge Fourth Division, Q. M. G. O.

MEDICAL.

TO MARRIED AND SINGLE LADIES.
PORTUGUESE FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS.—Every lady uses them. In all cases of stoppage or irregularity, from whatever cause, they are certain to succeed in forty-eight hours, and at the same time safe and healthy, as well as pleasant, being sugar-coated. They are scientifically prepared of costly and rare extracts. The only reliable specific for ladies. They cannot fail in any case. Price $3 and $5 a box. Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Midwifery, Sole Agent and proprietor for upward of twenty years. Office No. 129 Liberty-st., or sent by mail in letter envelope.
Dr. Mauriceau guarantees a safe and immediate removal of all special irregularities in females with or without medicine.

THOUSANDS ARE TIMELY SAVED BY Dr. KENNEDY'S skillful and improved treatment.—Private diseases cured in the shortest possible time by Dr. KENNEDY & CO., No. 125 Elm-st., New-York, without the use of mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. KENNEDY, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 25 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhoea or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. KENNEDY, No. 125 Elm-st. Call, send or write.

AFFLICTED RESTORED—IGNORANCE EXPOSED—FALLACIES UNMASKED.—Highly important to both sexes, married or single, in health or disease. Dr. Larmont's Paris, London and New-York MEDICAL ADVISER AND MARRIAGE GUIDE. New edition; 432 pages. Nearly 100 anatomical illustrations upon debility, affections of the bladder and kidneys, sexual diseases, European hospital practice, the author's unequaled Paris and London treatment, &c. Sold by E. WARNER, No. 1 Vesey-st., $1 50, closely sealed, or consult the doctor, No. 173 Broadway, New-York, from 12 A. M. to 6 P. M.
"We concur with other papers in recommending Dr. LARMONT and his work."—Courrier des Etats Unis, German die Reform, Staats Zeitung, Atlas, Medical Review, &c.

ADVICE TO MARRIED LADIES.—MADAME RESTELL, Professor of Midwifery, having over thirty years' successful practice in this city, guarantees a safe and immediate removal of all special irregularities and obstructions in females, with or without medicine, at one interview, or by mail. Can be consulted with the utmost confidence at No. 162 Chambers-st. Her infallible French Female Pills, No. 1, price $1, or No. 2, which are four degrees stronger than No. 1, and can never fail, are safe and healthy, price $5, can be sent by mail. Also sold at the druggist's, No. 162 Greenwich-st., near Liberty-st. Madame RESTELL deems it her duty to caution ladies against imitators, who not only deprive them of their means, but their health.

MANHOOD AND THE VIGOR OF YOUTH regained in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restoring remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 195 Elm-st., New-York.

A PHYSIOLOGICAL VIEW OF MARRIAGE—Containing nearly 300 pages and 130 fine plates and engravings of the anatomy of the sexual organs, in a state of health and disease, with a treatise on self-abuse, its deplorable consequences upon the mind and body, with the author's plan of treatment—the only rational and successful mode of cure, as shown by the report of cases treated. A truthful adviser of the married and those contemplating marriage, who entertain doubts of their physical condition. Sent, free of postage, to any address on receipt of 25 cents, in specie or postage stamps. Address Dr. LA CROIX, No. 31 Maiden-lane, Albany, N. Y.

DR. POWERS' PERIODICAL DROP are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in case of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases. Warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr. POWERS, No. 195 Elm-st., New-York.

THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION, by Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, strictly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage, to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City.

O. S.—1832—CHOLERA DROPS.—DEPOT No. 72 Murray-st., New-York.

MANY THOUSANDS ARE RUINED BEYOND REDEMPTION in this life by not calling on Dr. HUNTER sooner or later. He can cure the worst cases of secret disease in a shorter time than any other physician, or no pay taken. Skeptics and doubters will please call and read hundreds of reliable certificates of cures made within the last thirty years of almost hopeless cases, that had had the benefit of dozens of our most eminent physicians and surgeons. Dr. Hunter is in constant attendance from 8 in the morning till 9 at night, at his old office, No. 3 Division-st., New-York City, since 1834. Charges moderate, and a cure guaranteed. Separate rooms, so that the patient sees no one but the Doctor himself. His wonderful medical discovery, DR. HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures private diseases when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, and possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless his remedy is used. This is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. $2 per vial. Book, 50 pages, gratis, on nervous debility, causes of impotency, marriage, &c.

Last night but two of the
GRAND GERMAN OPERA,
Beethoven's chef d'oeuvre, and only Opera,
FIDELIO.
This grand classical Opera is only produced in America by this Company.
From the Boston Journal.
Beethoven's immortal "Fidelio" has been finally selected for this the farewell night. This Opera will ever rank as one of the greatest musical works. Its performance before drew forth warmer praise, and more rapturous applause from that well-judging public, and from the press, than any performance that has been given here for many years.
Tickets for sale at the usual offices.
The performances of this week are all that can be given by the German Opera Company this season. An engagement to inaugurate the NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE at Pittsburgh precludes a longer stay.

LEGAL NOTICES.

INTIMATION IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT a process of multiplepoinding and exoneration has been raised by the Trustees named in the trust-settlement of the deceased GEORGE BLAIKIE, farmer, Muirhouse, near Stow, in the County of Midlothian, Scotland, against JOHN GIBSON, tanner and currier, of Durham Village, Ormiston, in the District of Beauharnois and Province of Canada; JAMES BLAIKIE GIBSON, also tanner and currier, late of Durham Village aforesaid, and now in the Township of Franklin, in said District of Beauharnois, the surviving children of the marriage between the deceased George Gibson, formerly of Falkirk, in Stirlingshire, in Scotland, thereafter tanner and currier, of Durham Village aforesaid, and the also deceased Mrs. Lillias Blaikie or Gibson, sister of the said deceased George Blaikie, and Andrew Henderson, builder, in Galashiels, their attorney; and also against Elizabeth Viancour, Eliza Viancour and Lucas Viancour, all residing at Rochester, Monroe County, New-York, or elsewhere furth of Scotland, the children of the marriage between William Jerome Viancour, residing at Rochester, Monroe County, New-York, aforesaid, and the deceased Mrs. Eliza Gibson or Viancour, daughter of the said deceased George Gibson, and Mrs. Lillias Blaikie or Gibson, and the said William Jerome Viancour, as tutor or administrator-in-law for his said children; and likewise against Martha Lamplier, residing at Scriba, Oswego County, New-York, or elsewhere furth of Scotland, and George Lamplier, otherwise called Simons (which name he is understood to have assumed) now or lately of Company E, Eighteenth New-York Volunteers, serving with the Army of the United States, the children of the marriage between the deceased Rinaldo Lamplier, some time residing in Oswego County aforesaid, and the also deceased Barbara Gibson or Lamplier, daughter of the said George Gibson and Mrs. Lillias Blaikie or Gibson—and the tutors and curators of such of the said parties as may be minors, if they any have; which summons concludes that it should be found and declared that the said trustees are only liable in once and single payment of the sum of £612 10s. and interest, being the balance of the sum of £1,250 sterling, which was vested by the said deceased George Blaikie in his trustees, for the purpose of paying to his sister, the said Mrs. Lillias Blaikie or Gibson, the free yearly interest or produce during her life, and, at her death, of dividing the said capital sum equally among her children, share and share alike, and that to such of the said defenders or others who may be found to have best right thereto; and which summons further concludes that the above-named persons, and all others pretending right to said sum, ought to produce their respective rights and dispute their preferences thereto; which Process is at present in dependence before Lord Ormidale, Ordinary, and the First Division of the Court of Session in Scotland, and the following Interlocutor has been pronounced by His Lordship thereon—"6th March, 1866. The Lord Ordinary, on the motion of the Real Raisers, appoints intimation of the dependence of this Process to be made by advertisement twice in each of the following newspapers, viz., the New-York Times, the New-York Tribune and the Scottish American Journal, all published at New-York; and also by letter addressed to each of the parties defenders called in the Summons, and who have not already lodged claims, whose addresses are known to the Real Raisers, and that by the first Sederunt-day in May next, (12th May, 1866;) and of new appoints the Claimants to lodge their Condescendences and Claims by the first Sederunt-day. (Signed,) R. MACFARLANE." Of all which intimation is hereby made.

INSTRUCTION.

FRENCH CLASSES UNDER A. A. FAVARGER.
The class announced for ladies and gentlemen will meet EVERY EVENING, at 7½ o'clock, at No. 9 University-place. Those who would avail themselves of this last opportunity should join the class at their earliest convenience, so as to profit by the rudimentary exercises of the beginning, which are indispensable when the object is perfection of pronunciation. These loud vocal repetitions of French phrases in their most perfect and distinct pronunciation are even more necessary to persons who already speak French. "The less perceptible the defect, the more difficult the correction." While it is the only way to acquire accuracy of speech, it is also the best means to attain correctness and fluency of language in a short time. Terms for this class: The first term, (30 lessons,) $30 each member; the second, $25; the third, $20; the fourth, $15, &c.
A special class for schools, with exceptional advantages for teachers, young ladies and their parents. This class will receive a thorough course of French Elocution during May and part of June, if desired. Every member will be expected to take an active part in the exercises, and may attain in this short course a cultivated and critical ear, and an exceptional facility and correctness of pronunciation.
This course will begin on Thursday, April 26, at 3½ P. M., at which opening lesson persons who are interested are invited to be present, to hear an exemplification of the French pronunciation compared with the English, showing the causes of non-success and the means of certain success in speaking as purely and elegantly as the educated natives themselves.
Information can be obtained at the Theological Seminary, No. 9 University-place, from 3¼ to 4 P. M. Terms $15. A number of pupils from the same school will obtain special favors.

CHORAL ORGANS.
It is admitted by all MUSICIANS who have examined the
CHORAL ORGANS,
that they combine more desirable qualities than any reed instrument ever before made. By a combination of arrangements, peculiar to the CHORAL ORGAN alone, the tone EXCELS in fullness, purity, and richness; and in the general mechanical arrangements of the instrument, it surpasses all others of its class. The patent Graduated Swell is controlled entirely by the feet, while blowing; requiring no change of position of hands or feet, thereby enabling the performer to produce all those beautiful effects for which the Organ is so eminently adapted. This SWELL is not a LOUD PEDAL only, but, as its name indicates, a SWELL, by which you glide from the PIANISSIMO to the FORTISSIMO at will, or instantly change from one to the other. This is peculiar to the CHORAL ORGAN. The voicing of the Reeds is done with the greatest care, in order to free them from the HARSHNESS often heard in reed instruments; and no one who listens to the CHORAL ORGAN but is attracted by the melodious sweetness of its tones. None should purchase an instrument of this class without first inspecting the CHORAL ORGAN.

STEINWAY & SONS'
GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT PIANOFORTES
Have taken thirty-two First Premiums Gold and Silver Medals, at the principal fairs held in this country within the last ten years, and in addition thereto they were awarded a First Prize Medal at the Great International Exhibition in London, 1862, in competition with 269 Pianos from all parts of the world.
That the great superiority of these instruments is now universally conceded is abundantly proven by the fact that Messrs. Steinway's "scales, improvements and peculiarities of construction" have been copied by the great majority of the manufacturers of both hemispheres (as closely as could be done without infringement of patent rights) and that their instruments are used by the most eminent pianists of Europe and America, who prefer them for their own public and private use, whenever accessible.
STEINWAY & SONS direct special attention to their PATENT AGRAFFE ARRANGEMENT, which, having been practically tested in all their Grand and highest priced Square Pianos, and admitted to be one of the greatest improvements of modern times, will hereafter be introduced in every piano manufactured by them without increase of cost to the purchaser, in order that all their patrons may reap its benefit.
STEINWAY & SONS' PIANOS are the only American instruments exported to Europe in large numbers, and are used in European concert rooms.

and buried on various battle-fields. The Quartermaster-General says he has reports of the interment of nearly one hundred thousand, a large portion of whom, it will, perhaps, be necessary to remove to cemeteries. One million dollars will be required to protect them from desecration, and it is recommended a general system be adopted. General THOMAS has issued an order warning the people against plowing under or disturbing the graves of our dead at Atlanta.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate in Executive Session to-day confirmed the following nominations: DEXTER G. COOLEY, of Iowa, to be Commissioner of Indian Affairs; J. B. ROGERS, of Missouri, to be United States Marshal for the Eastern District of Missouri; LEOPOLD R. ROEDER, of Wisconsin, to be Consul at Stettin.

VIRGINIA ASSESSORS.

The President to-day completed the appointments of Collectors and Assessors for the Districts of Virginia. All the appointees take the test oath without modification.

BANK SAFE LOCKS.

The Secretary of the Treasury to-day made the award on proposals for furnishing the Government with bank safe locks for one year. The contract is awarded to DODDS, MCNEALE & URBAN, safe manufacturers, of Cincinnati.

REMOVALS IN NEW-JERSEY.

An order was made to-day removing the Collectors of the First and Fifth Districts of New-Jersey, and the Postmaster at Camden, in that State.

THE ALLEGED FRAUDS IN BOSTON.

The resolution offered in the House, to-day, by Mr. HIGBY providing for an investigation of alleged compromises of fraud in the Boston Custom-house, is accompanied by the following exhibit:

[Exhibit A.]

CUSTOM-HOUSE, BOSTON,
COLLECTOR'S OFFICE, May 8, 1865.

Received of J. D. & M. WILLIAMS and EDWARD CODMAN & Co. $100,000, in full satisfaction of all claims which the United States may have for duties, fines, penalties and forfeitures arising out of the importation of champagne wines and other merchandise up to this date, or incurred by reason of frauds therein, or other improper conduct in relation thereto, or out of the acts of any and all the parties therein interested. All books and papers of J. D. & M. WILLIAMS to be given up.

(Signed) J. L. GOODRICH, Collector.

Appended to this receipt is a printed slip cut from a newspaper telegraph column and headed "A Boston Transaction," the language of which is as follows:

During the past year a smuggling transaction by the leading wine merchants of Boston was settled by the payment of $125,000. It afterward became known that the firm paid $156,000 to settle the affair, and the Government is making a legal investigation to see who received the lubricating $32,000.

NOMINATIONS TO THE SENATE.

Several additional nominations for Collectors and Assessors of Internal Revenue in Pennsylvania and Ohio were sent to the Senate to-day. Among them were H. F. CARY, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Second District of Ohio, vice M. R. W. TAYLOR, removed, and A. B. SLOANAKER, Collector for the First District of Pennsylvania, vice Col. JOHN H. TAGGART, removed.

SALE OF HOSPITAL BUILDINGS AND REVENUE CUTTERS.

The President has approved the bill authoriz-

The President has approved the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to lease or sell at public auction such marine hospital buildings, and lands appertaining thereto, as he may deem advisable, provided the hospitals at Cleveland, Ohio, and Portland, Me., shall not be sold or leased, where no other suitable and sufficient hospital accommodation can be procured upon reasonable terms for the comfort and convenience of the patients.

The Secretary is also authorized to sell at public auction such of the revenue cutters as he shall find ill adapted to the purposes of the revenue service, and to expend the proceeds in the purchase or construction of other vessels better suited to the wants of the service.

THE TEST OATH.

The report of Representative WILSON, of Iowa, to-day, from the Committee on the Judiciary, on the Message of the President of the United States, transmitting communications from the Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster General, suggesting a modification of the oath of office prescribed by the act of Congress approved July 2, 1862, contains the following points:

The act prescribing the oath was passed when the nation was in the midst of a gigantic war, waged against it by its own citizens, and Congress intended to establish by it a permanent rule of public policy, which should exclude from the offices of the United States every citizen who had voluntarily abandoned his allegiance to the Government and joined in the mad attempt of traitors to destroy it. The official positions which many of the leading traitors held under the Government, while engaged in organizing the rebellion, were sources of power without which the war could not have been commenced. Those positions gave the conspirators a resistless influence over the people of the Southern States, and supplied the means for organizing forces that converted one-half of the Republic into battle-fields, on which loyalty and treason contended for four years. If every officer of the Government had proved true to his trust, the rebellion could not have occurred. This fact was properly appreciated by Congress and by President LINCOLN when the act of July 2, 1862, was placed upon the statute book of the nation. They saw that treason derived all its original strength from the official positions of leading traitors. The baseness of the traitors who had gone from Congress, from the Cabinet, and from the Army and Navy, to give character and organization and power to the rebellion, was fresh in the minds of all who participated in the enactment of the oath of office. The Yulee letter, disclosing the double villainy of the men who conspired against the Government while holding the highest offices, had been discovered and placed before the country but a short time before the passage of the act of July 2, 1862. That letter did much toward convincing every true supporter of the Government of the necessity of applying the test of uninterrupted loyalty to every public officer. So marked was its effect then that the Committee deem it proper to reproduce it here as an argument in favor of maintaining the policy in the adoption of which it materially aided. The Committee understand that it is the deliberate purpose of Congress to maintain the policy of the act of July 2, 1862, which is to keep the offices of the Government in the hands of loyal men. Treason is not to be made respectable by the robes of office. Places of honor, trust, power and profit should be bestowed on the loyal only. True men can be found in the insurrectionary States to fill all such places; and none others should be selected. No law of the nation ought to be so changed as to render any other course possible. And in this regard the Committee entirely concur in the bold statements made by President JOHNSON, both while the war was in progress and after actual hostilities had ceased. The Committee quote the remarks of President JOHNSON while he was Military Governor of Tennessee to show that the declarations are in entire harmony with the policy established by the act of July 2, 1862; and when on the 28th of April, 1865, he asserted that it is time the American people should be taught to understand that treason is a crime—not in revenge, not in anger—but that treason is a crime, and should be esteemed as such and punished as such he uttered an appeal for the continuance of the test oath of such force that the Committee cannot disregard it, and is constrained to aid him in all proper efforts to reach so desirable a result, and the Committee is of the opinion that one of the most effective means of making treason odious is to close all official doors against traitors, fill the offices of the Government with loyal men and put no traitors on guard. This, in the judgment of the Committee, will surely make treason odious, and tend to produce harmony of action between the Legislative and Executive branches of the Government. The Committee does not suppose that the President, when he declared if there are but five thousand men in Tennessee loyal to justice, these true and faithful men should control the work of reorganization and reformation absolutely, meant not to be understood as fixing a numerical limitation, but rather as announcing a doctrine that loyal men, however few in numbers, should be the sole depositories of political power and social influence. This must be the true interpretation of his words, for any other would be inconsistent with his emphatic and often-repeated denunciations of treason and traitors.

The Committee further quote from President JOHNSON'S speeches in the Senate in March, 1861.

In reviewing the letter of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Committee say the test oath was established by law, and no officer had any more right to dispense with it than he had to dispense with any other law. All officers should know that the dispensing power does not exist in this Government, and its exercise is dangerous and will not be tolerated. If the act of July 2, 1862, stood in the way of a proper execution of other laws, to the extent indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury, the duty of the President was very plain. It was not to dispense with the law, but to assemble Congress, and ask for a removal of the obstacle. Had this been done in the Spring of 1865, the complications now existing in the affairs of the nation would, in all probability, have been avoided, for with the views then entertained by the President relative to the power of Congress over the subject of reconstruction, the legislative and Executive departments could have worked together, with little or no friction. Instead of calling Congress together, the Executive Department of the Government elected to dispense with the law of July 2, 1862, and the Secretary of the Treasury presented the House with an exhibit of the officers appointed under this dispensation.

The committee, after further argument, say in conclusion, if the test oath should be so far modified as to enable an ex-rebel to take it, the social influence which now overcomes loyal men would still push them out of the way and force the Government to bestow its offices on the disloyal. This would not make treason odious, nor would it punish traitors. On the contrary it would increase the odium which now attaches to loyalty in the Southern States, and punish men because of their faithfulness to the Government. A community that will not respect an officer of the United States because he has been sufficiently loyal to the Government to allow of his taking the test oath does not deserve to have the advantages and conveniences of the postal service extended to it; but does deserve to have the revenue laws enforced against it by the services of such officers as the Government may be able to secure. There are thousands of loyal men in the Southern States who can take the test oath; and to such should the offices in those States be given. Let the Government recognize their claims in this regard, and loyalty and respect for the laws of the United States will soon be strong enough to overcome the social power which frowns upon every Union man who stood by the flag of the Republic throughout the whole course of the war. Temporary inconvenience should not turn the Government aside from this policy. The unhappy condition of the Southern States cannot be improved by changing laws which may be opposed to the views and the feelings of those citizens who fought for four years to destroy the Government. They must learn that obedience to law is a duty not to be lightly regarded, and that loyalty to the Government is a virtue which cannot be destroyed by the social power of the disloyal. When these ends are secured, it may be expedient to modify the test oath, but not until then. The Committee therefore ask to be discharged from the further consideration of the subject.

Representative ROGERS presented his views, in which he says the honorable Secretaries and the President are in a situation to know better the necessities for a modification of such oath than any other persons. Their honesty, loyalty and love of country cannot be justly questioned; and when such high authority recommend the passage or modification of a law it should have great weight, and furnishes to the House good evidence that the oath should be modified. It is but a small asking simply to urge the modification of an oath unknown to the Constitution, and established in the time of war for the purposes of war, and he (Mr. ROGERS) was a little surprised that they did not recommend its entire repeal. The war is ended, and peace has been proclaimed. The only question that ought to be raised is whether they are loyal and can take the oath to support the Constitution. This is all that ought or really can be required of them. The most of the people of the South lost their fortunes with the rebellion upon an honest conviction that their allegiance to State sovereignty was superior to Federal authority. Some held offices under the rebel Government as the only means they had for support. Some aided the rebellion to avoid conscription. Some were compelled by conscription to take up arms in defence of the so-called Confederate States. Yet the present oath prevents every one of them from holding an office under the Federal Government. In fact nearly one-half of the people were compelled by a despotism to sustain the Confederate cause; and as the Federal Government could not protect them it has no right to complain of persons who were forced to give allegiance to the only organization that could give them protection. This test oath must at some time, and that not far distant, be repealed. It cannot always remain unless it is the determination of the people to deprive the present generation in the South of a voice in the affairs of the nation. That cannot be done, and this country remain a Republic. The people of the South are anxious to participate in the affairs of the Union. And to exclude 7,000,000 from participating in Federal affairs by the obligation to take an oath foreign to the Constitution, and one they cannot take without false swearing, is despotism pure and simple.

After further argument, the report concludes as follows.

"In view of all the surrounding circumstances, it does appear that we should lay our party prejudices aside, elevate ourselves to the situation of affairs, and modify the oath, so far at least as is recommended by the Honorable Secretary of the Treasury, and the Honorable Postmaster-General of the United States. It is to be hoped that our revenues will be collected, and our means of communication through the Post-office Department extended all over the vast domain of our common country, without the necessity of using such measures as will tend to alienate the affections of one-third our population, and establish a despotism over one-third of our land.

For the reasons herein set forth, it is recommended that Congress so far modify the test oath that the third clause may be stricken out, and a clause inserted therein to read as follows: 'That I have not voluntarily sought any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States.'"

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

FIRST SESSION.

SENATE......MONDAY, April 23.

THE NAVAL ACADEMY.

Mr. MORGAN presented the memorial of the New-York Chamber of Commerce in favor of the passage of the pending bill to fix the standard of admission to the Naval Academy, which was ordered to lie on the table.

A PETITION.

Mr. HENDRICKS presented the petition of mechanics and laborers of Indianapolis, asking for such amendments to the tariff as will protect their labor, which was referred to the Committee on Finance.

THE COUNTY OF ALEXANDRIA.

Mr. WADE introduced a bill to repeal the act retroceding the county of Alexandria, District of Columbia, to the State of Virginia, which was referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia.

NITRO-GLYCERINE.

Mr. CONNESS offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the expediency of providing against the importation, transportation and manufacture of nitro-glycerine in the United States.

THE RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. CHANDLER asked the Senate to take up the bill to facilitate postal and railroad communication between the States.

Mr. JOHNSON said that Mr. MORRILL was anxious to discuss this subject, and he was absent.

Mr. CHANDLER would like to have the discussion go on and press the bill to a vote as soon as possible. He said there were several Senators, he understood, anxious to speak on the subject. He simply wished to press the bill to a vote. It had been before the Senate for three sessions.

The bill was made the special order for Friday next at 1 o'clock. Its language is as follows:

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States confers upon Congress in express terms the power to regulate commerce among the several States, to establish post-roads and support armies; therefore,

Be it enacted, etc., That any railroad company of the United States whose road is operated by steam, its successors and assigns, be and it is hereby authorized to carry upon and over its road connections, boats, bridges and ferries all passengers, troops, Government supplies, mails, freight and property on their way from any State to another State, and to receive compensation therefor, and to connect with roads of other States, so as to form continuous lines for the transportation of the same to the place of destination; Provided, That this act shall not affect any stipulation between the Government of the United States and any railroad company for transportation or fares without compensation, nor impair or change the conditions imposed by the terms of any act granting lands to any such company to aid in the construction of its road.

THE NAVY PAY DEPARTMENT.

Mr. GRIMES called up the House bill for the better organization of the Pay Department of the navy.

It provides, as passed in the House, that from and after the passage of this act the actual list of the pay corps of the navy shall consist of eighty Paymasters, forty passed Assistant Paymasters, and thirty Assistant Paymasters. Paymasters shall be regularly promoted and commissioned from passed Assistant Paymasters, and passed Assistant Paymasters from Assistant Paymasters. And all passed Assistant Paymasters, authorized by this act to be appointed, who have not heretofore been appointed and commissioned as Assistant Paymasters; and all Assistant Paymasters hereby authorized to be appointed shall be selected from those who have served as Acting Assistant Paymasters for the term of two years, and who were eligible to appointment in that grade when they were appointed Acting Assistant Paymasters as aforesaid, subject, however, to such examinations as are required by law, and such as may be established by the Secretary of the Navy.

SEC. 2. That Passed Assistant Paymasters shall give bonds for the faithful performance of their duties in the sum of $15,000, and that their annual pay shall be, at sea, $1,500; on other duty, $1,400; on leave or waiting orders, $1,200.

The bill as amended was passed. It goes back to the House for concurrence in the Senate amendment.

THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

Mr. SHERMAN called up the bill making appropriations for the Post-office Department for the ensuing year. It provides, as reported from the Finance Committee, as follows:

SECTION 1. That the following sums be and the same are hereby appropriated for the service of the Post-office Department for the year ending June 30, 1867, out of any moneys in the Treasury arising from the revenues of said Department in conformity to the act of the 2d of July, 1836: For transportation of the mails, inland, $9,550,000; for transportation of the mails, foreign, $650,000; for ship, steamboat, and way-letters, $8,000; for compensation to postmasters, $4,250,000; for clerks of post-offices, $1,920,000; for payment to letter carriers, $640,000; for wrapping paper, $100,000; for twine, $30,000; for letter balances, $6,000; for compensation to blank agents and assistants, $8,000; for office furniture, $6,000; for advertising, $80,000; for postage stamps and stamped envelopes, $250,000; for mail depredations and special agents, $100,000; for mailbags, $130,000; for mail-locks, keys and stamps, $30,000; for payment of balance due to foreign countries, $350,000; for miscellaneous articles, $320,000.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That the following sums, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same are hereby appropriated for the year ending June 30, 1867, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to take effect so soon as Brazil shall have performed the condition on her part provided in the law authorizing said service: for the mail steamship service between the United States and Brazil, $150,000; provided that this appropriation shall take effect only when Brazil shall have performed the condition on her part provided in the law authorizing such service; for the mail steamship service between San Francisco, Japan and China, for six months ending June 30, 1867, $250,000; for the inland mail transportation between Atchison and Folsom; for marine mail transportation between New-York and California, $900,000.

SEC. 3. And be it further enacted, That the Postmaster-General be and he is hereby authorized to employ sailing vessels for the transportation of the mail between the ports of the United States and any foreign ports, where the service may be facilitated thereby, all owing and paying therefor a compensation not exceeding the postages accruing on these mails so conveyed.

SEC. 4. And be it further enacted, That the Postmaster-General be and he is hereby required to report to the Secretary of the Treasury annually, prior to the first day of November of each year, his estimate of the money required for the service of the Post Department for the ensuing fiscal year, which estimate shall be reported to Congress with the printed estimates of appropriations required by the joint resolution of the 7th of January, 1846.

Mr. HENDERSON submitted the following amendment to the bill, as an additional section:

That in all cases in which persons have been or shall be appointed either during the recess or during the sessions of the Senate, as Assistant Postmasters or other civil officers under the Government, whose appointments require the consent of the Senate, and whose appointments, having been submitted to the Senate have been rejected or not consented to before the adjournment thereof, no money shall be drawn from the Treasury or used from any fund or appropriation made or created by law to pay the salaries of such persons under such appointments, or under any previous appointment to the same office for services rendered after said adjournment; and if any person so rejected by the Senate shall after such adjournment be appointed to the same office, no money shall be drawn or used as aforesaid, to pay his salary, until his appointment shall have been consented to by the Senate at its succeeding session.

A protracted discussion occurred on the above, and was participated in by Messrs. Henderson, Sherman, Johnson, Trumbull, Howe, Cowan, Howard and Sumner.

Mr. TRUMBULL offered the following as an amendment to Mr. HENDERSON'S amendment:

That no person exercising or performing the duties of any office, which by law is required to be filled by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, shall until he is confirmed by the Senate, receive any salary or compensation for his services, unless he be commissioned by the President to fill a vacancy which began to exist during the recess of the Senate and since its last adjournment.

Without taking any action on the bill or amendment the Senate went into Executive Session at 3:30 P. M., and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

The first business in order was the call of Committees for reports to go upon the calendar. No report was made under this call.

THE EIGHT HOUR SYSTEM.

The next business in order, being the call of States for resolutions, the resolution offered last Monday by Mr. INGERSOLL came up, directing the Committee for the District of Columbia to inquire into the expediency of establishing by law the eight hour system in the District.

The resolution was adopted.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Mr. BIDWELL, from the Committee on the Pacific Railroad, offered a resolution, which was adopted, providing for an evening session to-morrow, for the purpose of hearing reports from that Committee.

The parliamentary motion to reconsider and lay on the table, so as to secure the matter, having been made by Mr. PRICE, Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, inquired the object of having a session to-morrow evening.

Mr. PRICE responded that the Committee on the Pacific Railroad had not been called for two months, and, to all appearances, would not be called for two months longer. It had very important bills to report, and by the means suggested it would not interfere with any other business.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, thought it would be giving an undue preference to that Committee over other committees. The Committee on Commerce had also very important bills to report, and all committees should take their regular turn. Besides, a bill involving such vast appropriations as the bills to be reported from the Pacific Railroad Committee, were not to be disposed of in an evening session. He demanded the yeas and nays on the motion to lay on the table.

The vote having been taken by yeas and nays, resulted, yeas 61, nays 40. So the motion to reconsider was laid on the table, leaving the resolution adopted.

FRAUDS ON THE REVENUE.

Mr. HIGBY offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Public Expenditures to investigate the compromises of frauds on the revenue, alleged to have taken place in connection with the Custom-house at Boston, and to ascertain what disposition has been made of the moneys paid on such compromises; also to investigate such other alleged frauds upon the customs or internal revenue as it may deem advisable, and, whether any vexatious suits have been commenced against importers and others, brought or instigated by any person or persons connected with the Customs or Internal Revenue service in the cities of Boston and New-York, with power to send for persons and papers, to take testimony in New-York or Boston and to sit during the recess.

The House having refused to second the previous question, and Mr. DAWES having risen to debate the resolution, it went over under the rule till next Monday.

NITRO-GLYCERINE AND OTHER EXPLOSIVE MATERIALS.

Mr. MCRUER offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Commerce to inquire into the subject of storage and transportation of combustible and explosive materials, and report what measures are necessary to secure better protection to life and property.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, said he would ask the House to consider that very subject, after the close of the morning hour.

AGRICULTURE.

Mr. DONNELLY introduced a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Agriculture to inquire into the money value of the seeds and plants distributed by the Agricultural Department, and whether a large amount could not be procured for the same money from the gardeners and nurserymen of the country by advertisement and contract, and what steps are necessary to increase the efficiency of the Agricultural Department.

TENNESSEE.

Mr. LATHAM introduced the following resolutions:

Whereas, The Committee on Reconstruction has reported that the people of Tennessee are found to be in a condition to exercise the functions of a State within this Union; and

Whereas, By the information received through the investigations of said Committee, and through other channels, it is the sense of this House that the people of said State are entitled to representation herein; therefore,

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that the Committee on Reconstruction be and the same is hereby relieved from the further consideration of all matters pertaining to the representation of the State of Tennessee in this House.

Resolved, That the credentials of the Representatives elect from said State be and the same are hereby referred to the Committee on Elections, with leave to report at any time, and with instructions to report as soon as practicable upon the election returns and qualifications of each of said Representatives elect.

The point having been raised whether the resolutions must not go to the Committee on Reconstruction without debate, the Speaker decided that the first resolution was in order, but that the second was not in order.

Mr. LATHAM thereupon withdrew the second resolution.

Mr. CONKLING raised the point of order that the first resolution was not in order, inasmuch as the question of the admission of Tennessee was not now before the Reconstruction Committee, it having reported it to the House.

The Speaker sustained the point of order.

Mr. PRICE inquired whether the subject had not been recommitted to the Reconstruction Committee.

The Speaker replied that it had been, but that there was a motion to reconsider pending. The question of the admission of Tennessee was not before the Committee on Reconstruction, and therefore the resolutions were not in order.

THE TRIAL OF JEFFERSON DAVIS.

The call of States being completed, the next business in order was the consideration of a resolution offered by Mr. JULIAN on the 29th of January, which then went over under the rule, declaring as the deliberate judgment of this House that the speedy trial of JEFFERSON DAVIS, either by a civil or military tribunal, for the crime of treason or the other crimes of which he stands charged, and his prompt execution, if found guilty, are imperatively demanded by the people of the United States, in order that treason may be adequately branded by the nation, traitors made infamous, and the repetition of their crimes as far as possible prevented.

Mr. JULIAN moved the previous question on the resolution.

Mr. WILSON, of Iowa, appealed to Mr. JULIAN to let the resolution be referred to the Judiciary Committee, which now had the subject under consideration.

Mr. JULIAN declined to do so, and the House seconded the previous question and ordered the main question to be put.

Mr. CHANLER moved to lay the resolution on the table.

Mr. ELDRIDGE asked Mr. JULIAN to modify his resolution by striking out the words "or military tribunal."

Mr. JULIAN declined to do so.

Mr. FARNSWORTH remarked that the resolution expressed the sense of the country.

Mr. BINGHAM appealed to Mr. CHANLER to withdraw the motion to lay on the table, so that he might move to reconsider the vote ordering the main question, and then move to refer the resolution to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. CHANLER assented to that and withdrew his motion.

The House then, on motion of Mr. BINGHAM, reconsidered the vote ordering the main question and seconding the previous question.

The morning hour having then expired, the resolution went over until Monday.

REPORT ON THE TEST OATH.

Mr. WILSON, of Iowa, from the Judiciary Committee, made an adverse report on the proposition of the President to modify the test oath, and the Committee was discharged from its further consideration, the report being laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. ROGERS presented a minority report in favor of the recommendations of the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Postmaster-General, which was also ordered to be printed.

CHOLERA.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a joint resolution authorizing the President to carry into effect such orders and regulations of quarantine as may be deemed necessary and proper, in aid of the State or municipal authorities, to guard against the introduction of cholera into the ports of the United States, and also to empower military and naval commanders in ports and places in States which have been or are in insurrection, to inforce such quarantine regulations as may be necessary for the purpose of guarding against the introduction of cholera or yellow fever, and to provide for the proper care and treatment of patients, and appropriating for those purposes such amount as may be necessary.

The joint resolution was read three times and passed.

NITRO-GLYCERINE.

Mr. WASHBURNE, of Illinois, stated that a report on the subject of nitro-glycerine would be made from the Committee on Commerce very soon.

THE ARMY BILL.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill to reorganize and establish the Army of the United States, the question being on an amendment offered by Mr. THAYER to the sixteenth section, in reference to the Quartermaster's Department.

This gave rise to considerable debate, participated in principally by Messrs. SCHENCK and THAYER.

Messrs. CHANLER, PAINE and FARQUHAR also addressed the House on the same subject.

The debate was finally closed by the previous question on the section and the pending amendments.

The first question was on the amendment offered by Mr. SCHENCK to the substitute, which was agreed to.

The question recurred on the substitute as amended, and it was rejected—yeas 45, nays 70.

That left the section as reported from the Committee on Military Affairs, and amended by the House as follows:

SEC. 16. And be it further enacted, that the Quartermaster's Department of the army shall hereafter consist of one Quartermaster-General, with the rank, pay and emoluments of a Brigadier-General; six Quartermasters, with the rank, pay and emoluments of Colonels of cavalry; ten Quartermasters, with the rank, pay and emoluments of Lieutenant-Colonels of Cavalry; fifteen Quartermasters, with the rank, pay and emoluments of Majors of Cavalry; forty-four Quartermasters, with the rank, pay and emoluments of Captains of Cavalry; and at least two-thirds of all the original vacancies in each of the grades of Lieutenant-Colonel and Major, and all original vacancies in the grade of Captain, shall be filled by selection from among those persons who have rendered meritorious service as Assistant Quartermasters of volunteers in the army of the United States in the late war. But after the first appointments made under the provisions of this section as vacancies may occur in the grades of Major and Captain in the Department, no appointments to fill the same shall be made until the number of Majors shall be reduced to twelve and the number of Captains to [illegible] the number of officers in each of said grades [illegible] conform to said reduced number [illegible] Assistant Quartermaster-General or as Deputy Quartermaster-General or as Assistant Quartermaster, [illegible] change the title to Quartermaster in the case of those who rank as Colonels, Lieutenant-Colonels, Majors and Captains, without changing in any way their relative position or the time from which they take such rank.

No amendments being offered to the seventeenth and eighteenth sections, these sections stand as reported by the Committee, as follows:

SEC. 17. And be it further enacted, That the number of military storekeepers shall hereafter be as many as shall be required, not exceeding sixteen, who shall have the rank, pay and emoluments of captains of infantry.

SEC. 18. And be it further enacted, That the provisions of the act for the better organization of the Quartermaster's Department, approved July 4, 1864, shall continue in force, so far as they do not become obsolete and unnecessary upon the disbandment of the volunteer forces.

The 19th section, which refers to the Subsistence Department, was taken up for consideration.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE moved to amend, by substituting for it the corresponding section in the Senate bill, and spoke in support of his amendment. He took occasion, in the course of his remarks, to defend the Military Academy at West Point from the charge of having been a nursery for treason. He denied that it was, and referred to GRANT, SHERMAN, THOMAS, MEADE, and scores of others, graduated at West Point, as having crowned themselves with glory. The heroes of the war, men who came from West Point, challenge to-day the admiration of the world. They were the men whose names were written highest on the scroll of fame. While he would not depreciate the efforts of others, he would not have anything done to reflect on the graduates of West Point. The volunteers were entitled to the lasting gratitude of the country. They had made a high and heroic record, but in comparison with the men educated at West Point, it was, and always would be, where untrained men are brought into competition with highly-educated men, whether in the law, in the ministry, in medicine, or in the army, education would tell. When, in addition to that, men were trained in those high notions of personal honor, in which West Pointers were trained, the treasures of the nation might be put into their hands, and every dollar of it would be faithfully accounted for.

Mr. SCHENCK disclaimed the idea of reflecting on West Point. The Committee meant simply this, that after the Government had educated a man for years at West Point, and made him skillful in engineering and gunnery and general tactics, he should not be set to work inspecting biscuit and making contracts for beef. Why should they be allowed to descend from their positions for the purpose of dealing in sow belly and hard tack? These men were educated for something else. Civilians could do the work of the Subsistence Department, as 514 civilians in that Department had proved during the war. There was no more necessity of having a man educated at West Point, to make him a competent Commissary of Subsistence, than to make him a Chaplain or Paymaster. Every step upward that the gentleman (Mr. WOODBRIDGE) lifted West Point, proved his (Mr. SCHENCK'S) argument. The more of a soldier he made every graduate there, the more incongruous it was that these men all covered with glory, the rivals of Mars himself, should descend to weigh crackers and inspect beef.

Mr. SMITH took exception to undue laudation of West Point, at the expense of the volunteer service.

Mr. WOODBRIDGE protested that no one had a higher respect for the volunteer service than he had, but still it was true that the men who had achieved the most distinguished military honors in the late war were those men who had graduated at West Point. There was one of them who did not come out all right.

Mr. SMITH referred to the fact that the man who served above all the rest, in the history of the war, was a man who had not made the army his profession, but who was engaged as a tanner in Galena at the time the war broke out. What West Pointer stood higher than JOHN A. LOGAN?

Mr. NIBLACK stated that the indications were that it was not the intention of the House to pass this bill at this time. If that were so, the House was but losing its time in considering the bill, section by section, with a view of testing the sense of the House. He moved to postpone the further consideration of the bill to the first Monday in December next.

Mr. SCHENCK rose to oppose the motion, but yielded for a motion to adjourn.

THE REPORT OF GEN. SMITH AND JAMES T. BRADY.

Mr. FARNSWORTH offered a resolution which was adopted requesting the President to communicate to the House, the report of Gen. SMITH and JAMES T. BRADY, in their investigation at New-Orleans.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.

Mr. ELIOT gave notice that on Monday next, after the morning hour, he would move to discharge the Committee of the Whole on the state of the Union from the further consideration of the River and Harbor Improvement Bill, and to have action upon it by the House.

THE ATLANTA BATTLE-FIELDS.

The Speaker presented a message from the President in answer to a resolution of the House of the 2d inst., transmitting the report of the Secretary of War respecting the collection of the remains of our officers and soldiers killed and buried in the various battle-fields about Atlanta.

It was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

THE FRENCH TROOPS IN MEXICO.

Also a message, in response to a resolution of the House of the 16th inst., requesting information relative to the proposed evacuation of Mexico by the French military forces, transmitting a report from the Secretary of War, and the documents by which it was accompanied.

It was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

REVENUE ASSESSORS.

Mr. MILLER introduced a bill to allow United States Revenue Assessors to appoint deputies.

Read twice and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

FRAUDS ON THE REVENUE.

Mr. HIGBY asked leave to offer a resolution similar to that offered by him this morning, in reference to revenue frauds in Boston and New-York.

Mr. ROSS objected.

A PETITION.

Mr. KETCHAM presented a petition of citizens of Rhinebeck, N. Y., asking increased protection on American wool.

It was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

THE JUDICIARY BILL.

Mr. CONKLING presented a remonstrance of the citizens of Utica, N. Y., against the Judiciary Bill.

It was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. WARD presented a similar remonstrance from the leading members of the bar of Steuben County.

NEBRASKA TERRITORY.

Mr. HITCHCOCK, of Nebraska Territory, introduced a bill for the relief of persons, for damages sustained by reason of depredations and injuries by certain bands of Indians.

Read twice and referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Mr. BURLEIGH, of Dacotah Territory, offered a resolution, which was adopted, requiring the Secretary of the Interior to furnish the House with a full statement of all monies on hand on the 10th of July, 1866, applicable to the support of the various Indian tribes, and for all other purposes connected with the Indian service, &c.

COLORADO MILITIA.

Mr. BRADFORD, of Colorado Territory, offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Military Affairs to inquire into the propriety of reporting a bill to pay the regiment of Colorado mounted militia, mustered into service in the Winter of 1865, by order of Col. THOMAS MOONLIGHT.

The House, at 4:30 o'clock, adjourned.

KENTUCKY.

The Proposed State Conventions—Everything Mixed Up.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

LOUISVILLE, Friday, April 20, 1866.

Two conventions meet here in May, the Courier's "Kentucky Democratic State Convention," on the 1st, "to reorganize the Democratic party in the State, upon the broad basis of the Constitution and its friends, irrespective of party divisions, and bring it in conjunction with the Northern Democracy, so as to give effective support to the President's policy and drive the Jacobins from power;" and the Journal's "State Mass Convention," on the 30th, "to unite all true men in Kentucky, irrespective of party, in hearty support of the President's Constitutional Union policy and noble stand against the reckless and malignant dominant party, of a section only, in the National Congress."

Though the Journal brands the Courier Convention as a "conclave of political guerrillas, representing simply and exclusively a clique of unrepentant and impudent Secessionists and rebels, who, abusing the magnanimity of our people and their legislators, are unscrupulously striving, under a stolen name, to revive in Kentucky and hoist into power the old secession organization of 1861," the Journal chimes with the Courier in most unqualified and intemperate, and, therefore, as it seems to me, injudicious and impolitic denunciation of the "radical majority in Congress;" and, it may be, the two Conventions, so as to "present a solid front against Northern radicalism," will conclude to unite upon the same identical platform and ticket.

In that event, I take it, our still "Union Republicans" will stand aloof alike from both.

But otherwise, so far as the Journal "Mass Convention," (whether or not through their influence in or upon it,) may prove less partisan, extreme or sectional—less destructive or more promotive of harmony and good feeling between all persons, parties and colors at Washington and throughout our country—our "Union Republicans" of 1864 and Pro-Amendment men of 1865 may, to that extent, decidedly favor this Convention's ticket, as against any "Democratic" ticket upon a "Democratic" platform essentially secession or copperhead.

Gen. JEFF. C. DAVIS, the new commander of this department, will, I trust, act with the same conscientious sense of duty and urbanity of manner that characterized his predecessor. PONTIAC.

The New-Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad.

From the New-Orleans Times, April 15.

The election of a new Board of Directors for the New-Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad came off yesterday, and resulted in the unanimous choice of the following named gentlemen:

For Louisiana—C. Fellowes, H. W. Schwartz, Wm. Henderson, Henry Florance, Williamson Smith, J. A. Blanc, Geo. Clark, J. J. Warren, C. S. Leeds, J. M. Reid, R. W. Ogden, W. A. Gordon.

For Mississippi—Joshua Green, E. H. Saunders, Wm. Hemingway, James Drane, A. M. Carothers, S. J. Gholson.

An unusually large vote was polled, for another and very objectionable ticket had been talked of—objectionable not on account of the men connected therewith, but of the measures which they advocated—and the stockholders determined to crush the scheme while it was yet in its incipiency.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

BROOKLYN COMMON COUNCIL.—The Board met last evening, the President, Alderman BLISS, in the chair. A communication was received from ROBERT FUREY & Co., asking the privilege to use the city docks at the foot of Fulton and Gold streets, and offering $700 per year rent therefor. The subject was referred to a Special Committee. The Special Committee appointed to investigate the deficiency in the public funds submitted a partial report, in which they stated that the total amount appropriated last year by the Common Council was $36,000, and that the deficiency was $150,000. They exonerate the Board, however, of any blame in the premises. The report was referred back to the Committee for further investigation. A communication from the Mayor was submitted, calling attention to the necessity of cleaning the streets immediately. A resolution in connection therewith was adopted directing the Street Commissioner to advertise for proposals with the view of having all the streets properly cleaned by the 1st of May prox. The Street Commissioner sent in a large number of orders to remove nuisances from different parts of the city. The matter was referred to the Health Commissioners, and the Board shortly after adjourned.

ESCAPE OF A PRISONER AND RECAPTURE.—A man named WILLIAM LEWIS was brought before Justice CORNWELL, yesterday, on the charge of assaulting and badly beating Officer CHRISTIAN LUKE, of the Atlantic Dock Police, on the evening of the 14th inst. While in court, the prisoner took advantage of circumstances, and leaped through an open window. He ran as far as the corner of Myrtle-avenue and Adams-street, when he was overtaken by Capt. PETERSON, an officer of the Court, and Mr. JACOB SCHMIDT, the Clerk of the Court, who brought him back. The examination was then resumed, and the accused was committed to await the action of the Grand Jury.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—The woman ELIZABETH EARL, who was burned while lighting a fire by means of kerosene oil, on Saturday afternoon, at her residence, No. 140 Gold-street, died at the City Hospital on Sunday night from the effects of the injuries. An inquest was held by Coroner SMITH, and a verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A young woman named ROSANA ROURKE, aged 22 years, residing with her parents in Hoyt-street, near Butler-street, dropped down dead on Sunday, while crossing the lots in the vicinity of President and Smith streets. The cause was congestion of the brain, and the verdict of the Coroner's Jury was in accordance therewith.

RAGS FROM EGYPT.—The Italian vessel which arrived from Alexandria, Egypt, a few days since, with a cargo of rags, has, by permission of the Board of Health, discharged her load. She lies at the foot of Partition-street. The residents of the neighborhood objected to it, and a posse of Police was found necessary to preserve order.

NEW-JERSEY.

JUMPED OVERBOARD FROM A FERRY-BOAT.—At one o'clock yesterday afternoon, as the Jersey City ferry-boat Newark was crossing from New-York to connect with the train, an unknown man attempted to commit suicide by jumping off the bow when near the middle of the stream. The boat passed entirely over him, and when next seen he had divested himself of his coat and was swimming vigorously toward the shore. The boat was backed up, and as the man was going down for the third time, he grasped a rope and was rescued. Upon being hauled on board he became insensible, having sustained a wound on the head, and in which condition he was conveyed to the Alms House.

SPECIAL ELECTIONS FOR ALDERMEN.—Special elections will be held in the Fourth and Fifth Wards of Jersey City to-day, Tuesday, to fill the vacancies occasioned by the resignation of Aldermen PANGBORN and FINCH, the newly appointed Police Commissioners. The following nominations have been made:

Fourth Ward—ANNING SMITH, Democrat, and MELANCTHON H. CURTIS, Republican.

Fifth Ward—Col. JOHN GRIMES, Democrat, and ANDREW A. GADDIS, independent.

ARREST OF BURGLARS.—Yesterday morning, about four o'clock, three young men, named JOHN CONLAY, ANDREW O'NEIL and JOHN SMITH, were arrested by Officers CARROLL and HARNEY, charged with attempting to burglariously enter the furnishing store of Mr. NICHOLS, No. 6 Newark-avenue, Jersey City. They were held for examination.

ARREST OF A PICK-POCKET.—Early last evening a young man giving the name of WM. DAVIS, was arrested at the Erie Railway depot in Jersey City by Detective NUGENT, on a charge of picking the pocket of BRIDGET FRASER of $8. Being detected in the act, he was locked up for examination.

THE WORLD LAUGHS

In its sleeve at the efforts of a few envious dentists to decry the SOZODONT. It is natural, perhaps, that they should dislike it, since its popularity interferes with the sale of their wares, but how ridiculous in them to show their spite when its animus is so palpable.

BIOKRENE,

OR LIFE REJUVENATOR.

The uses of this powerful Vegetable Invigorant may be summed up in a few words. It relieves with absolute certainty all disabilities, cures nervous debility of every type, restores the exhausted powers, after long-continued sickness; prevents and arrests premature decay, is a vitalizing, strength-renewing cordial to the aged; may be relied on by woman in all her physical difficulties as a harmless and sure restorative. It is an antidote to the consequences of early indiscretion, has no equal as a stomachic in cases of dyspepsia, sustains not only the physical strength but the constitution itself, and is in all respects the best tonic depurative and antibilious cordial in existence.

Below read a few extracts from letters daily received:

FREDONIA, N. Y., April 4, 1865.

Messrs. Hutchings & Hillyer:

GENTS: Your BIOKRENE, OR LIFE REJUVENATOR, is a wonderful article, and is doing my wife a great deal of good.

I have recommended it to a neighbor of mine for nervous debility, and it gives excellent satisfaction. In cases of nervousness it acts like a charm. Send me six bottles by express. I shall still continue to recommend it to others. Yours, LEWIS HENRY.

METAMORA, Mich., July 9, 1865.

Messrs. Hutchings & Hillyer:

I have used two bottles of your BIOKRENE, and find it all that it is recommended for. Inclosed is $5; send me half a dozen more, as I wish some for my husband, Rev. S. P. Klots, and my mother. In haste.

Yours truly, MRS. S. P. KLOTS.

XENIA, Ohio, June 15, 1865.

Messrs. Hutchings & Hillyer:

SIRS: Inclosed please find $10, for which you will send me one dozen BIOKRENE. What you sent me has done me great good. Gratefully yours. D. MEDSKER.

NEWARK, N. J., May 28, 1865.

Messrs. Hutchings & Hillyer:

The BIOKRENE sells well, and gives good satisfaction. It is a good thing, and I recommend it strongly to my customers. Yours, &c., O. B. KINSEY, Druggist.

This Company offers greater inducements for investments than any Stock Company now in existence.

The object of the Company is to afford facilities to the impoverished Cotton and Sugar Planters of the South to grow and get their crops to market, always taking good and satisfactory security by mortgage, on their plantation and crops, for money advanced in procuring supplies, paying labor, and other necessary expenses incidental to the development of the soil.

CAPITAL AND LABOR
